"Bonanza" Pact Inquiry Sought By McCormack

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP) — House Majority Leader McCormack (D-Mass.) disclosed today the comptroller general has challenged a 10-year, $2,400,000,000 contract and demanded a congressional investigation of its origins.

McCormack called it a "bonanza contract" and demanded a congressional investigation of its origins.

"The responsibility for this situation rests upon President Eisenhower," the Democratic leader said. "If he did not know, he should have."

The contract provides for leasing communications services from telephone companies at charges which McCormack said may run as high as 240 million dollars annually for 10 years. Rates to be charged by the companies provide for full amortization of their investments over a 10-year period, with the companies owning the facilities at the end of that period.

The facilities are part of the Air Force "sage system" for the semi-automatic processing of data and weapon control. The system is expected to embrace 8 sectors and 32 subsectors. Each subsector is to have from 500 to 900 leased communication circuits costing an estimated four to six million dollars annually starting late in 1957.

The private companies, headed by Western Electric and American Telephone and Telegraph, are to finance the necessary engineering, construction and installation of equipment and to provide services at regular tariff rates calculated to repay construction and installation costs over 10 years. Engineering and construction already is under way under the contracts.

No Congress Approval
In a ruling dated Aug. 15, Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, the government's chief auditor, held that a contract "of such magnitude" requires specific authorization from Congress.

Such authorization has not been given, although Campbell cited a section of existing law giving the Administrator of General Services authority to contract for public utility services for periods not exceeding 10 years. In the case of the "Sage" contract, the authority was delegated to the Defense Department and to the Air Force.

Howler Veers Out In Atlantic; South Hard Hit

(By The Associated Press)

Hurricane Ione veered out to sea yesterday, sparing the populous Northeast from a new assault on towns still digging out from last month's floods.

But it struck hard to the south, taking at least five lives and inflicting damage estimated in the millions of dollars in North Carolina.

A sister hurricane, Hilda, struck Tampico, Mexico, killing at least 12 persons, injuring 350 and leaving 15,000 homeless.

Ione moved well out to sea off Norfolk, Va., on an easterly course running well below Nantucket Island.

No Further Danger

Weather forecasters said this meant the coast was free from further danger, but that the howler still menaced any ships in its path.

Ione, the season's ninth hurricane, hit the Atlantic Coast near New Bern, N. C., and wrought its heaviest damage in that state. Then it arched through Virginia before heading to sea.

Gen. Edward Griffin, North Carolina's Civil Defense director, said Ione's damage would "certainly equal and might surpass" the combined losses inflicted there last month by Hurricanes Connie and Diane.

He said damage from the two August storms had been placed at from 85 to 100 million dollars.

Water 10 Feet In Street

Heavy rain and winds up to 100 miles an hour hit New Bern. Water there was 10 feet deep at one time on Middle Street. Homes two miles from the Trent River had up to four feet of water in them. The Atlantic and East Carolina Railroad bridge over the Trent was washed out.

City Manager C. L. Barnhardt estimated damage to private property alone at five million dollars.

New Bern and Elizabethtown, N. C., each reported one death and there were three in North Carolina's Pamlico County, east of New Bern.

Mitchell Hails U.S. Prosperity

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said tonight the nation is enjoying more prosperity under President Eisenhower than in 1952 under the Democrats.

Mitchell said a record 65½ million workers have jobs and predicted the total will grow to 75 million within a decade.

The Cabinet member spoke on an ABC radio broadcast. The Republican National Committee asked for and obtained the time after former President Truman charged in a Labor Day broadcast that the present administration is "antibulgar."

Mitchell did not mention Truman or the Democratic party but said, "of course, we were prosperous in 1952, no one would deny that. But we are more prosperous today."

He said today's prosperity is more firmly based because, he said, it does not depend on war spending and because it has been achieved "for the benefit of the entire nation and not just for the benefit of some special segment or pressure group."

'Frisco Presses Greatest Hunt For Baby's Kidnap

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20 (AP) — Police pursued the greatest search in San Francisco's history today for a woman who kidnapped the three-day-old son of a Mt. Zion Hospital staff physician.

Acting Police Chief John A. Engler mobilized his forces on an unprecedented scale. He said every hour that passes added urgency to the quest. The child, Robert J. Marcus, was stolen yesterday from the Mt. Zion Hospital's nursery.

Various persons who saw the woman, both before she snatched the infant from his crib and as she walked down a street with it, described her as about 34 years old,

Reds Hint New Berlin Squeeze As Pact Signed

By STANLEY JOHNSON

MOSCOW, Sept. 20 (AP) — East Germany's Communist boss Walter Ulbricht warned today that a new traffic squeeze may be imposed on Red-surrounded West Berlin.

He spoke after the Soviet Union and East Germany signed agreements restoring — they said — sovereignty to East Germany.

These agreements provide that Russian troops must be stationed in East Germany for defense purposes. They also concern the remaining war prisoners held by the Russians.

Ulbricht told a news conference after the ceremonial signing in the marble room of the grand Kremlin Palace that new traffic measures around Berlin might be necessary "unless the government of West Germany and West Berlin abandon their cold war attack against our German Democratic Republic."

No Bonn Recognition

(The Bonn government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has refused to recognize the East German government, claiming it is only a Soviet puppet regime.)

Ulbricht, East Germany's deputy premier, also said the Bonn government must abandon its plan for rearmament within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization if it wants to discuss the reunification of Germany. He described the Paris agreements for West German rearmament as one of the main obstacles to reunification.

The Soviet-East German agreements were drawn up in five days of negotiations between East German Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

Each Signs Eight Times

Bulganin and Grotewohl did the signing, each writing his name eight different times.

Today's agreements provide for the liquidation of the Soviet high commissioner's office in East Germany and his replacement by an ambassador.

The Germans announced the pact grants them "real sovereignty" — contrary to the phony sovereignty Bonn received from the Western Powers, "provides for the release of prisoners and for the continued garrisoning of Russian troops on East German soil as long as American, British and French troops remain in West Germany."

Flames and smoke from the burning KD97, a four engine, 78-ton craft used for aerial refueling of jet planes, were visible all over the Bangor area.

U. N. Votes 43-12 To Shelve Issue Of Seating Red China

Russia Suffers Defeat For Sixth Straight Year

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 20 (AP) — The 10th U. N. Assembly today backed an American motion and voted 43-12 to shelve the question of seating Red China for the duration of this session. It was the sixth straight year the Russians have failed to get Peiping into the U. N.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, present for his first Assembly since 1946, demanded a seat for the Reds 12 minutes after the session began. He took his defeat calmly. Russian delegates have been pressing the U. N. to seat the Red Chinese since January, 1950.

The Assembly decision came after an hour and a half of talk which lacked fireworks of previous years. Molotov did not attack the United States as previous Russian delegates had done. This apparently was a result of the Geneva meeting of the Big Four and the current Russian campaign to win friends.

Lodge Prepared For Move

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. delegate, was prepared for Molotov's move. Lodge put up a counter resolution simply stating that the Assembly decides not to consider at its 10th regular session during the current year any proposals to exclude Nationalist China from the U. N. or to seat representatives of the Central Peoples Government of the Peoples Republic of China.

Lodge almost held the same vote as he obtained on the same resolution last year. At that time, the Assembly voted 43-11 to put off the question. Indonesia switched from an abstention last year to a vote against postponement. Others voting last year and this year against the American move for postponement were Burma, White Russia, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, India, Norway, Poland, Sweden, Soviet Ukraine, Soviet Union, and Yugoslavia.

Molotov Sees Less Tension

Molotov pointed out the 10th session was being opened "in a more auspicious international atmosphere" because of the Geneva conference of the Big Four.

"There is evidence of a certain change for the better in relations among nations, in the consolidation of confidence among them and in the relaxation of international tensions," Molotov said. He said the "restoration of legitimate rights" to Peiping by giving it a place in the U. N. would represent an important new step "toward the further relaxation of international tension."

Lodge said he would not debate the issue. But George Yeh, foreign minister of Nationalist China, replied to Molotov that if any delegation should be unseated "it should be the Soviet Union herself."

Agencies Have Huge Balances

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP) — Congress' watchdog committee on federal spending reported today government agencies had $91,300,000,000 in unspent balances last May 31.

This represented about a 7-billion-dollar decrease from the $98,400,000,000 in total balances at the end of the preceding fiscal year, June 30, 1954.

Projecting estimates of federal spending in June, the drop would be considerably greater.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), chairman of the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures, used figures for May 31 as the latest available from the Treasury. These showed spending of some $6,800,000,000 less than the estimated 64½ billions for the entire year ended June 30.

Applying this difference, the total of unexpended balances would have been roughly 84½ billions at the close of the 1955 fiscal year.

Time limits on certain appropriations could reduce that total. But on July 1, when a new fiscal year began, appropriations amounting to some $52,200,000,000 were added on to the available balances.

The committee's figure of $91,300,000,000 in unexpended balances represents almost 1½ times what the government spent in the last full fiscal year. Byrd has long censured the federal budget cannot be brought under control until these carryover funds are markedly reduced.

Jam-Packed Till Trial Recessed At State Request

SUMNER, Miss., Sept. 20 (AP) — A jam-packed trial of two white men accused of slaying a Chicago Negro boy was called off today until 9 a.m. tomorrow.

The judge recessed the trial after the district attorney asked more time to question prospective new witnesses.

The judge said the request was reasonable and added, as further reason for adjournment, his courtroom had become a fire trap during overcrowding.

"If fire develops any place in this courthouse, great tragedy will take place," said Circuit Judge Curtis Swango Jr. as he recessed the trial moments after the afternoon session opened.

400 Crowd Into Room

More than 400 Mississippi Delta residents had crowded into the humid room. They stood in aisles or sat in the 230 seats in quiet anticipation of the opening of state testimony against Roy Bryant, 24, and his half-brother, J. W. Milam, 36.

The two men are accused of the kidnap-killing of Emmett Louis (Bobo) Till, 14, who allegedly wolf-whistled at Bryant's wife.

At the end of the morning session, a jury had been picked and witnesses sworn in. The state appeared ready to begin testimony. By the time for the court's afternoon opening, there were more people in and around the courtroom than there normally are in the entire town, which has a population of 550.

Defense Objects

Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham opened the afternoon session with a request for an overnight adjournment. He said he had come across new prospective state witnesses. He asked for time to talk to them.

The defense objected to the delay but Judge Swango called the state's request for more time reasonable. He pointed to the obvious fire hazard in the room as "further reason" for the adjournment.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20 (AP) — Comedian Pinky Lee collapsed today in the midst of his NBC network television show for youngsters.

About two-thirds of the way through his scheduled 30 minutes show, the little comedian clutched his throat and said: "Somebody help me."

The cameras turned away and Lee was helped to his dressing room.

Dr. Theodore Mainzer examined him and said he believed the collapse was due to exhaustion and nervousness. Lee, 52, will be checked to determine if there was a heart attack. He was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph Hospital in Burbank.

Security Fears Stilled By Nixon

OMAHA, Sept. 20 (AP) — The Eisenhower administration "will never put our desire to balance the budget ahead of our determination to maintain a adequate military strength," Vice President Richard M. Nixon declared tonight.

In remarks prepared for the International Assn. of Fire Chiefs meeting here, the vice president, made this statement in comment on what he termed "well intentioned warnings that the United States and the free world is being lulled into a false sense of security by the recent conciliatory moves of Soviet leaders and that as a result our strength may be reduced to inadequate levels."

Nixon said the United States and the free world "are stronger today than at any time since World War II and we are strong enough to meet and defeat attack by any potential aggressor."

Hurricane "Expert" Raps Weather Bureau's System

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 20 (AP) — An associate professor, who out-predicted the U. S. Weather Bureau on Hurricane Ione, said today the Weather Bureau is all wet when it comes to Atlantic hurricanes.

Dr. John Q. Stewart, associate professor of astronomical physics at Princeton University, declared: "The trouble with the Weather Bureau is that they don't have men north of Cape Hatteras who understand hurricanes. They don't realize that hurricanes here act differently from those in the Gulf."

It was Stewart who issued a statement last night saying that the tropical storm predicted to force pound New Jersey would "not be bad at all." He said the bureau's warning system was too inflexible.

Threat To Sue U.S. Wins Firm Power Contract

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP) — The Harvey Machine Co. of California obtained its federal loan guarantee and power contract for its Oregon aluminum project after threatening to sue the government for 70 million dollars, government officials disclosed today.

Harvey's suit for alleged repudiation of contract was prepared by the New York law firm of which Thomas E. Dewey, former New York governor and twice the Republican presidential nominee, is senior partner.

The company waived its claim only after conference this summer between James E. Nickerson of the Dewey firm and high officials of four government agencies. Administration lawyers decided Harvey had a case at least good enough to cost the government "many millions" if taken to court.

This, officials said, explains how Harvey obtained the pledge of a federal guarantee, announced a week ago, for its private borrowing to finance the long-delayed 75-million-dollar aluminum plant on the Columbia River at The Dalles, Ore.

Such guarantees have been contrary to government policy, except for crucial military items like titanium, since the Eisenhower administration took office.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming, who supplied the information in an interview and authorized other officials to release full details, said the general policy is unchanged. He added: "We are simply making good on commitments more than two years old. If the proposal came in today we wouldn't touch it."

Reds Free Two Missionaries

HONG KONG, Wednesday, Sept. 21 (AP) — The Chinese Reds Tuesday released two American women missionaries they tried but failed to pressure into admitting spy charges.

Miss Dorothy Middleton, 42, of Cicero, Ill., and Miss Sarah Perkins, 63, of Charleston, S. C., walked across the border into Hong Kong and a tender reunion with missionary friends.

Their liberation was the climactic event in years of foreign service for the two women.

They told of Red questioning and prison conditions far less harsh than reported by seven male Americans released in previous days.

Ex-Dictator Flees; Peace Talks Begin

Vessel Remains In Harbor; Rebels Call For Interception

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 20 (AP) — In a cold rain, Juan D. Peron took refuge today aboard a Paraguayan gunboat in Buenos Aires Harbor.

The rebels whose revolt shattered his 10-year dictatorship demanded that the fallen dictator-president be intercepted and arrested. Political asylum is highly regarded in Latin America, however, and this increased Peron's chances for escape to neighboring Paraguay.

It seemed obvious that the military junta now in control, including some of Peron's associates, had made no air-tight arrangements to prevent Peron's flight today from the presidential palace to the Buenos Aires docks.

The junta, meanwhile, was undertaking peace talks with the rebels. The government radio announced that a delegation of the junta left Rio Santiago Naval Base to meet a group of the rebel command. The talks are taking place aboard the cruiser Argentina.

Tense Situation

A tense situation brewed in the capital. Anti-Peronistas triumphantly paraded through the streets, ripping down portraits of Peron, toppled in a four-day revolution. For a time there was little sign of the bully-boy shock troops of street brawlers who sprang to Peron's aid in past crises.

But during the morning about 100 Peronistas began their own demonstration, marching down the Avenida de Mayo shouting "Peron, Si! Otro, No! (Peron, Yes! Others, No!)"

At the corner of Florida street they were dispersed by police without clashes or casualties. But this was the first pro-Peron demonstration since the rebellion erupted Friday. There was still speculation about what the powerful labor organization forces of Peron might do in this situation.

Peron's escape to the Paraguayan gunboat, which in effect is Paraguayan territory, was announced by Juan R. Chavez, the Paraguayan ambassador here. He also reported Idefonso Cavagna Martinez, foreign minister in Peron's government, had taken refuge in the Paraguayan embassy.

Flees In Rainstorm

Chavez gave this account: Peron, bundled up in a raincoat against a cold downpour, appeared "tranquil." He wore civilian clothing and carried only a small valise containing clothing. He groped his way to the docks through one of the worst rainstorms of Argentina's winter.

Peron reached the gunboat, accompanied by his military aide, Maj. Ignacio Cialcata, about 10 a.m.

The deposed dictator and Maj. Cialcata walked aboard the gunboat accompanied by Chavez and the Paraguayan military attaché, Gen. Demetrio Cardozo. As they stepped aboard the 636-ton craft the gunboat commander, Cesar Cortese, assured the two fugitives of protection. The ambassador then immediately informed the military junta that Peron and his aide were in asylum aboard the gunboat. He said he could not inform the junta when the ship might leave.

HONG KONG, Wednesday, Sept. 21 (AP) — The Chinese Reds Tuesday released two American women missionaries they tried but failed to pressure into admitting spy charges.

Their liberation was the climactic event in years of foreign service for the two women.

They told of Red questioning and prison conditions far less harsh than reported by seven male Americans released in previous days.

Miss Perkins, a spry Presbyterian missionary, said she told the Reds: "You may shoot me tomorrow but I will still tell the truth."

Faure Wins Free Hand From Cabinet To Replace Morocco's Aging Sultan

PARIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure today won a free hand from his own Cabinet to replace the Sultan of Morocco with a three-man regency and start a French-Moroccan reform aimed at peace in the strife-torn protectorate.

The ministers, in effect, wrote the Sultan's walking papers. All eyes turned to Rabat to see if and when aging Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat will walk.

His Moroccan supporters and French colonialists were reported as urging defiance as a means of reopening the whole issue when the French Parliament reconvenes next month.

Ending days of indecision and delay, the Cabinet authorized Faure and Pierre July, minister for Moroccan and Tunisian affairs, to designate three regents to take over the throne when, as still expected, the Sultan agrees to leave for Tangiers.

This settled a debate which raged throughout last week on the identity of the third regent, after all sides had agreed on the first two.

The ministers also authorized July to draft instructions to French Resident General Pierre Boyer de Latour du Moulin on removal of the Sultan and establishment of the regency. Boyer de Latour was then to leave by plane for Rabat.

The instructions, it was reported, included the names of three Moroccans picked by Faure and July for the third place on the regency council. The resident-general was being ordered to select one of them to fill out a three-man panel as soon as Ben Moulay Arafat leaves.

The other two will be the independent Nationalist, Si Bekkai, former Pasha of Sefrou, and El Mokri, Morocco's Grand Visier or Prime Minister who is more than 100 years old. Both the French and the Moroccan Nationalists agreed on these two more than a week ago.

The government also adopted a formal statement of Moroccan policy which will be made public when the regency takes over. Official informants said it pledges limited home rule or semi-independence to Moroccans in line with Faure's three-point Moroccan program.

Benson Asserts Farm Aid Plan Can't Be Rushed

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today the administration will continue to strengthen its farm aid programs, but declared it will not be "stamped into ill-considered actions."

Benson said the administration feels deep concern over declining farm prices and income, but the GOP farm chief added that any new steps taken by the government must be weighed carefully lest they "destroy farm markets and work against the long term interests of agriculture."

Benson also said that, "as a spokesman for agriculture in the federal government, I'm deeply disturbed by any action which adds even one penny to the production costs of farmers at this time." He referred specifically to recent increases in farm machinery prices announced after a wage increase in the equipment industry.

The secretary said in Washington last week that the administration will have something specific to offer the next Congress to improve the farm income situation, but he did not say what it would be.

Vicki The Elephant Eludes Search Party

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 20 (AP)—Vicki the elephant kept her 2,300 pounds hidden in the woods to day apparently content to graze in her newly found jungle paradise.

Vicki for the third straight day eluded a five-man search party headed by Louis Reed, elephant expert with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus. She escaped from a local amusement park 10 days ago.

Reed said Vicki is holed up in a jungle-like area six miles from downtown Charlotte. There's kudzu—a choice grass for animals—growing in parts of the large wooded tract and Reed said Vicki apparently is content.

Truckers Assail Proposed New Transit Policy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—A spokesman for truckers attacked the administration's new transportation policy today as leading to destruction of the motor transport industry and a monopoly for railroads.

A representative of the railroads testified the policy would correct an "undefensible situation" arising from unjust government restraints applied to rail lines but not to much of their competition.

Into the transportation policy battle, developing before a House Commerce subcommittee, the rival industries sent James F. Pinkney, general counsel of American Trucking Assn.'s Inc., and J. Carter Fort, vice president and general counsel of the Assn. of American Railroads.

As a basis for possible legislation, the subcommittee is considering a report by a cabinet-level presidential committee. This proposes to rewrite the transportation law and ease up on federal regulation of railroads and other common carriers.

Trucker Pinkney said the committee's proposal would result in "wanton waste" and "prospective chaos," with the Interstate Commerce Commission compelled to "stand aside and permit carriers to bleed themselves to death if they wish to do so."

Its recommendations, he said, would lead to a "rate-cutting war," with "the inevitable effect of driving the independent trucking industry out of business."

DETROIT, Sept. 20 (AP)—Ford Motor Co. announced today suggested list prices on its 1956 model Ford cars will be increased an average of less than five per cent.

This puts the prices, exclusive of federal excise, state and local taxes, license fees and dealer handling charges, at from $1,562 for a six cylinder two-door sedan to $2,280 for the six cylinder Country Squire station wagon.

The eight cylinder models will be priced at $93 above the six cylinder cars.

Treasury Acts On Cain Charge

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Treasury said tonight it has reopened the security case of an official cited by former Sen. Harry P. Cain.

Cain, a Republican from Washington State, is now a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board of the federal government. He said in a speech Monday that the security board which heard the official's case had offered to reopen it but that the board was opposed by its departmental security officer.

World Food Production Goes Up 25 Per Cent In 10 Years

By L. S. CHAKALES
ROME, Sept. 20 (AP)—Man is winning his age-old battle against hunger. World food production has increased by 25 per cent in less than 10 years.

That historic fact was reported by the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization recently in an annual report which also summed up the postwar decade. The 72-nation organization reported:

Food production is increasing faster than world population growth.

Millions still are not getting enough to eat in some areas, while there are surpluses in others.

Excluding the Communist bloc, for which figures are inadequate, agricultural production of the world was more than 25 per cent greater in 1954 than in 1946-47, FAO said.

But vast food surpluses clearly mean this production gain could have been better used to "raise the world's inadequate levels of nutrition and clothing," the report continued, adding that these surpluses, largely held by the United States and Canada, "have been the most disquieting feature of the food and agricultural situation in recent years."

The report went on: Production has "slightly outweighed" population growth since the war and production per capita is also slightly above pre-war levels.

The world is now producing about 20 per cent more rice, milk and cotton than before the war; about 30 per cent more wheat, fats and meat; 50 per cent more fruit and sugar, and 80 per cent more rubber, excluding synthetic.

At the end of the war, world agricultural production was down 5 per cent and world population up 10 per cent. There had been a fall in per capita production of about 15 per cent. This deficit was wiped out in 1954 and a slight gain reported.

Despite this greater abundance in many far Eastern and in some Latin American countries food consumption "still remains below the very inadequate prewar levels."

"Generally, over large parts of the world, the problem is not yet solved of providing people with the means to buy as much food as they need."

New Exhibit Shows Contrast Between Little Red School, Modern Classroom

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Any one who has wondered how the Little Red School House would stack up against a modern classroom can stop wondering.

A preview was held this week of a traveling exhibit called "Schoolroom Progress U.S.A."

Even the most nostalgic visitor would have to agree:

No matter how fondly the Little R.S.H. is recalled in song and story, any school board that tried to build one today, for actual use, probably would be lynched.

The exhibit, on two railway cars, is sponsored by the Henry Ford Museum of Dearborn, Mich., and the Encyclopedia Americana.

For the next three to five years it will be sent around the country with the public invited in for a free look at what's been going on in the school business.

The sponsors hope that the three million or so people who are expected to see the exhibit will take renewed interest in their schools, and that the tour's motto will have more meaning:

"Education — Like Freedom — Is Everybody's Job!"

The contrast between the old and the new is carried even to the railway cars. Playful Chesapeake & Ohio officials, who donated the cars, exhumed their oldest pullman for the oldtime exhibit. The other car, like the modern school, looks all the more sleek by comparison.

"We've tried to be completely authentic," Lee Howard, director of the exhibit, said. "Look at these." Here he pointed to electric lights making like candles. "Each gives off exactly one candlepower. We even had tests made to make sure the fireplace gives off the exact glow an old fireplace would."

Even in the gloom it was possible to note the cloud on Howard's face. "The trouble is," he said, "that in this light, you can't see a darned thing."

Still, by peering, as the early scholars must have had to do, it was possible to make out an early copy of the famous McGuffey Electric Reader; the desk on which are carved the initials "H. F.," an early sample of the craftsmanship of Henry Ford; a book with this inscription, "Stole From O. Wright," an early arithmetic belonging to an inventor of the airplane, Orville Wright; an early alphabet book with this couplet:

"U. is for Urchin, who looks like a fool,
With lessons unlearned, he is sneaking to school."

The next car was quite a contrast. A light, gay kindergarten; schoolrooms with television sets, latest equipment for home economics, a fine new all-purpose saw for the workshop.

"And the best part of it is," Howard said, "we aren't projecting a thing. This is all equipment used in actual classrooms today, all over America."

A number of visitors, including S. M. Brownell, U.S. commissioner of education, showed up for the unveiling. Brownell seemed impressed with the advance in school buildings, but he said not to forget that the teacher is doing a much better job, too.

"The stereotype," Brownell said, "of the aloof and stern school mark is gone."

If she has brightened as much as the schoolroom, she's quite a babe.

Foreign Newsmen See Soviet A-Plant

MOSCOW, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Soviet Union today showed its atomic electric plant to 20 foreign newsmen. They had a guided tour of what the Russians claim was the first such reactor supplying industry.

The station is near the village of Obrenskoye, 60 miles southwest of Moscow.

The atom plant is housed in a three-story building with a deeply inset basement where a uranium reactor supplies radioactive water used in the process.

Nikolai Nikolayev, 42-year-old plant director, conducted the newsmen and showed a motion picture to illustrate how radioactive water is used by a heating element to provide power for steam turbines geared to generators.

Nikolayev said 30 grams of carbon—about an ounce—is used each day in the reactor to provide energy equal to 100 tons of coal.

letting a desire for a balanced budget interfere with military preparedness.

The warnings have been coming thick and fast since it was revealed a few days ago that the Pentagon, cooperating with the budget-makers, was trying to find means of saving another billion or so dollars in the next fiscal year.

Reports have it that, the Army and Navy being already subject to the knife, any additional cuts must come out of the Air Force, where Congress has already demonstrated a desire for full strength.

The administration has met the protests with denials that any further cuts in military strength are planned. The implication is that the review of spending which is under way is directed at squeezing out water, not strength.

Few people who are at all familiar with governmental operations will doubt there is water left to squeeze. But there seems to be widespread opposition to drawing blood along with it.

A congressional committee at work on military procurement practices finds aircraft companies netting nearly 4 per cent on government sales last year, and nearly 30 per cent on their net worth.

A report emphasized that no conclusion had been reached as to the reasonableness of the profits, and that continued production of military aircraft must be insured. Sen. Stennis (D-Miss), a subcommittee member, commented there is room for improvement in the Pentagon, but warned against putting the budget ahead of security.

Don't let PAINS of headache, neuralgia or aching muscles get you down! The combination of fast acting ingredients in STANBACK TABLETS brings quick comforting relief. Keep STANBACK on hand, and when pain strikes . . .

Thus the business seems to be shaking down, though Washington observers are quick to comment that Secretary Humphrey of the Treasury is in the habit of getting his way, and it is he who is pressing for reductions in expenses all along the line, with a keen eye on the Defense Department where the big money really goes.

The argument that Russia is displaying a tendency to back away from military force as a major part of the Communist expansion program is a factor in a tendency to relieve rearmament pressures both here and in Europe. But Moscow's attitude toward Chancellor Adenauer of Germany this week has made that line of thinking look pretty thin. There is good reason for believing that the world situation which required rearmament in the beginning only sounds better, without having actually improved.

Two Baltimore Policemen Suspended For Accepting $75 From Grunewald

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Two veteran officers at Baltimore's central police station were suspended today on charges they accepted $75 from Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald, Washington influence peddler.

Grunewald was a prisoner at the station a few hours last Thursday morning while he awaited arraignment in federal court on a charge of evading about $96,000 in income taxes in 1949-50-51.

The two suspended officers are Sgt. James J. Purcell, acting desk sergeant at central and 17 years on the force, and Michael G. Gumpman, turnkey at the station and a veteran of 35 years' service.

Purcell was charged with accepting $75 from Grunewald. Gumpman was charged with accepting $20 of the $75 from Purcell, knowing that he got it from Grunewald.

When Federal marshals delivered Grunewald to the station lockup at 3:30 a. m. last Thursday after his arrest in Washington he had a $100 bill on him, Capt. John B. Kenealy reported.

He surrendered the money and got a receipt for it.

When the marshalls came back for him about five hours later he asked for his money.

Officers on duty said Grunewald had already taken his money back during the night so he could "give the boys around the place a little present." They produced the receipt Grunewald had signed. Capt. Kenealy said Grunewald then acknowledged he had gotten his money back.

He had only $5 on him when arraigned in court and released on $10,000 bail. The other $20 was found pasted under a wooden slab in his cell. There was no explanation why.

The charges against Purcell and Gumpman now are before Police Commissioner James M. Hepbron. Dismissal of an officer is almost automatic if such charges are proved.

Four Are Appointed To U. Of Md. Faculty

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 20 (AP)—The appointment of four new members to the faculty of the Department of Economics was announced today by the University of Maryland.

Dr. Edgar A. Johnson, formerly on the faculty of Harvard, Cornell, New York University and the University of California, will be a visiting professor and teach economic development.

Dr. John H. Dalton, of the University of California and a specialist on the economic development of Africa, was named an assistant professor.

Dr. George Donald Shelby, who received his degrees from the University of Cincinnati and the University of California, and Dr. Thomas J. Leary, from Ohio State, were named instructors.

Dr. Johnson was the first editor of the Journal of Economic History and is a founder of the Economic History Assn. He was civil governor of the Government of Korea in 1946 and 1947 and later served as director of the Korean Division of the Economic Cooperation Administration in Washington.

Md. Classified Employees Open Pay Hike Drive

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Maryland Classified Employees Assn., made up of about 14,500 of the 16,000 who work for the State, has started a campaign for a pay increase.

The State Standard Salary Board which supervises pay scales for the State workers, acknowledged it is considering at least three plans.

Nothing has been said yet about how much of an increase or what it would cost the State. Only one figure has bobbed up—three million dollars, plus the $240,000 more that would have to go into the retirement system for State employees.

Whatever the Standard Salary Board recommends will have to win the approval also of Gov. McKeldin as he puts together the State budget for the fiscal year which starts next July 1.

The final say would be up to the General Assembly when it meets next February.

The Maryland State Employee, official publication of the Classified Employees Assn., opened the campaign for pay increases.

It cited the 7½ and 8 per cent raises voted by Congress for Federal employees and postal workers. Maryland's pay scales were substantially below the Federal government's even before these increases, the paper said.

State's Harvest Season At Peak

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 20 (AP)—The harvest season is at its peak in Maryland, the Crop Reporting service said in its weekly survey today, and it makes apparent the damage from hot, dry weather in July and the two August hurricanes.

Farmers using mechanical pickers in their corn fields are having trouble in the Southern Maryland and lower Eastern Shore counties. Much hand gleaning is necessary to recover the ears from blown down corn.

Tobacco growers now have about 75 per cent of their leaf in the barns, and there is a lot less of it because of the hurricanes.

The harvest of baby lima beans is in full swing, and fields which bloomed during the dry weather in July are showing a disappointing production.

The rains borne by the hurricanes turned pastures lush after they were badly burned in July and early August. Now they need more moisture again if they are to continue their peak condition, the report said.

The weather last week produced a good color in the apples being harvested in Western Maryland.

TANEYTOWN, Md., Sept. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Adam John Klein, 47, of Taneytown, was killed today when two cars collided on the Feser Road about 2½ miles east of here.

Klein was taken to Annie Warner Hospital in Gettysburg, Pa., with a fractured skull. His condition was reported as poor.

State Trooper V. C. Boose reported the other car was driven by Donald Roberts Wood, 19, of Barnegat Light, N. J. Wood was not hurt but 17-year-old Henry Richard Morningstar of Middleburg, who was riding with him, was treated for severe cuts on the right forearm and bruises.

James E. McDonald Heads Farm Group

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 20 (AP)—James E. McDonald, orchardist and businessman of the Arden community, has been named president of the Berkeley County Agricultural Extension Service Committee.

The committee is the sponsoring agency in Berkeley County for the agricultural extension program.

U. Of Md. Greets 3,000 Freshmen

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 20 (AP)—Dr. Wilson H. Elkins, president of the University of Maryland, welcomed about 3,000 new freshmen to the campus today.

Dr. Elkins spoke at a freshman convocation, one of the events in the newcomers' busy orientation week.

Seniors registered today. Classes start Monday. Advance estimates are that about 13,000 students will enroll at College Park and in the professional schools in Baltimore. Off-campus enrollment, including the university's elaborate program from military personnel stationed overseas, is expected to run between 10,000 and 15,000.

Patients are admitted to U. S. hospitals at the rate of one every two seconds.

Helen Irene Smith To Be Achievement Day Speaker

The executive council of the Allegany County Homemakers Clubs outlined a program for the Achievement Day observance, and decided to hold a Christmas open house again this year. The former, November 15, will be at Central YMCA, the latter at the Court House.

Society Discusses Youth Threat

Mrs. John S. Cook Sr., presented a paper on "Dope 10 cents a Shot" at the meeting of the Vera Blinn Women's Society of World Service, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, Roberts Place. She stressed the growing threat to American youth, as she said dope is sold to teenagers at 10 cents a shot, and pointed out that only five of the 48 states have any laws pertaining to this great menace.

Plans were made for an executive meeting at the home of Mrs. William Suder, September 22 at 7:30; also the Day of Prayer at Bethany Evangelical United Brethren Church, September 28 at 7:30. Christian projects were discussed and it was decided to make hospital shirts for the orphanage at Quincy, Pa.

A program, "Christian, What of the Church?" was led by Mrs. T. L. Grove. Others on the program were Mrs. John House, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Isiminger, Mrs. Robert Baker, Mrs. Ethel Cook, Mrs. Allan Deffenbaugh and Mrs. Melvina Rider.

Mrs. Edward Shaffer presided at the business meeting. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Roland Newcomer, Mrs. H. J. Rolly, Mrs. House, and Mrs. Suder. Concluding the meeting a social hour was held.

Miss Helen Irene Smith, home demonstration agent of Cecil County, is to be the guest speaker for Achievement Day. She will talk about her visit in the Near East. Mrs. William Roby, Prince George's County, state president, and Miss Evelyn Scott, assistant home demonstration leader, also will be guests. It will be in the form of an afternoon dinner and evening meeting.

The meeting followed a covered dish luncheon at the summer cottage of Mrs. John S. Cook. The hostess presided and it was decided to add an amendment to the constitution concerning the scholarship fund. Clubs were urged to have the women vote and the group discussed the use of the voting machines. An Auditing committee also was appointed. Forty members attended.

with Mrs. Richard T. Cook assistant hostess. Secret sisters were revealed and new ones chosen. Twenty members and one visitor, Mrs. Harold Bishop, Keyser, attended.

The next meeting will be October 11 at the home of Mrs. Suder, Winchester Road.

Mrs. and Mrs. Carl G. Reuschel, 54 Oak Street, have returned from a two-week visit in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Mrs. and Mrs. A. N. Phillips and family, city, spent the weekend visiting relatives in Eckhart.

ENTERTAINING NEW MEMBERS — The fall season was opened by Cumberland Branch AAUW with a tea for new members, held at the Allegany County Historical Society house. Left to right are Miss Margaret Hamilton, Membership chairman; Mrs. William Silverthorne, Miss Josephine Kompanek, guests; Mrs. William Van Newkirk, president; and Miss Lillian Compton. The new officers served as hostesses for the afternoon and greeted the guests.

Sport Club To Hold Fall Meeting Sept. 29

The fall meeting of the Woman's Sport Club will be held September 29. In the form of a dinner meeting and card party, it will be held at the Ali Ghan Country Club, beginning at 6:30.

Mrs. Agnes Hersh, Mrs. Marie Cole and Mrs. Ann Bible comprise the committee of arrangements.

Chapter 914 Has Program

Star Recorder Day, which will be held in Frostburg the latter part of the month, was discussed at the meeting of Women of the Moose, Chapter 914. Mrs. Rosalie Evans presided.

A Chapter Night program was conducted by Mrs. Mary Humbertson and Mrs. Myrtle Greene was chairman for the evening and with her committee served refreshments.

Fast Breeding Fish Becoming Too Famous

By L. S. CHAKALES

ROME, Sept. 20 (AP)—A fast-breeding fish is becoming so famous that the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization has decided to trim the fish story down to size.

But, on past performance, tilapia mossambica — the fish in question — may not stand for the FAO deflation.

Sixteen years ago in a palm-fringed lagoon in Java experts discovered five fish of a species previously unknown to that area.

They were tilapia mossambica, up to then known as natives of Mozambique, on Africa's southeast coast.

The fast-moving tilapias spread out across the Indonesian archipelago into Malaya and north to Formosa. They arrived with the Japanese invasion and provided food during wartime years of disrupted commercial fishing.

After the war the FAO started sponsoring this fish which starts reproducing at an early age and is amazingly prolific.

Tilapia was introduced into Borneo, The Philippines, Jamaica, Thailand, the Dominican Republic, India, Haiti and other lands.

It doesn't ask much of its hosts. All it needs is tropical or semi-tropical weather. Water can be fresh, salt or brackish, running or still. It does well even in flooded rice paddies.

It will eat virtually anything, including plankton, vegetation, rice waste, soya, cocoa, flour and oil cakes.

The fish hatches in about a week. Within 8 to 10 months it grows to four ounces, a good eating size. After that it grows slowly.

Tilapia has faults for serious fish culture. It's too small, produces low yields and the slowdown of its growth as it ages is against it.

It's a "useful odd job fish," FAO says. "It is more of a 'toy fish' than a 'wonder fish.'"

But despite this "tilapia mossambica was a resounding success" in areas where few fish were known before.

It is now common in the waters of Formosa. A year after it was introduced into Ceylon, it made up 80 per cent of the catch from certain lakes. Haiti got the tilapia four years ago. Now 90 per cent of the catch from open waters of the Artibonite Valley is tilapia.

The sun is the chief cause of rain. Its heat causes evaporation of water which remains suspended in the air until its contact with a cooler current of air causes it to condense into clouds and fall to the earth as rain.

Man Held In Slaying Of Brother At Tavern

UPPER MARLBORO, Md., Sept. 20 (AP)—Robert Roy Elam, 57, has been held for grand jury action by Trial Magistrate Nita S. Hinman Crane in the slaying of his brother, Sam, 52, at a tavern near Laurel, Md.

Elam, out on $3,500 bond following a habeas corpus hearing in Prince Georges County Circuit Court, pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of murder.

Maryland State Trooper Robert Kuhns, who investigated the slaying on Aug. 29, testified at the preliminary hearing that he confiscated two guns upon his arrival at the tavern.

Kuhns said one gun was taken from a man standing nearby who said Robert Roy Elam had given it to him, and the other was taken from under Sam Elam's body on the floor of the tavern.

Hot Bricks Look Promising For Atom-Garbage Disposal

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Hot bricks look promising for safe disposal of the dangerous atomic garbage of our expanding atomic age, two U. S. Air Force scientist-officers said recently.

The garbage is radioactive atoms, produced abundantly in atomic furnaces or power plants. Many such atoms give off dangerous rays for years. If merely buried in the ground, they might easily spread to contaminate streams and lakes.

Research shows special types of clay can seize and hold tightly to various kinds of radioactive atoms, the scientists told the American Chemical Society. The clay could then be baked into bricks. The hot glazed for easy handling, then buried underground or in the ocean without danger that the dangerous atoms would leak out and escape.

Studies of this disposal method were reported by Lt. William L'a. R. Rice, Wright Air development Center, Ohio, and Capt. Theodore J. Williams, U. S. Air Force Institute of Technology. Both are chemical engineers.

Columbia University scientists reported a 20-fold increase in recovering valuable uranium, the atomic age fuel, from a slime-like waste product of the Florida phosphate fertilizer industry.

The method could add significantly to stocks of uranium, said

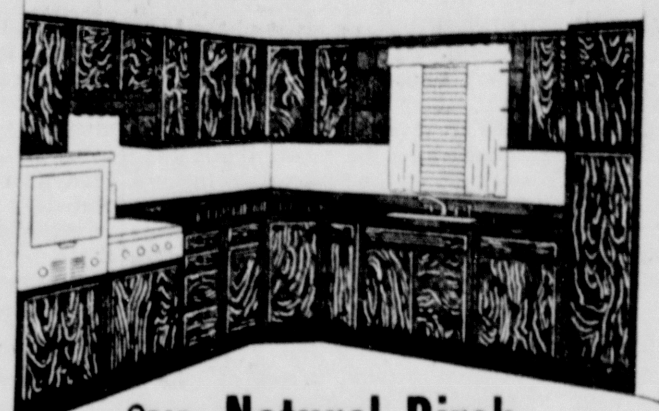

Prof. Victor K. La Mer, and P.K. Lee.

A year ago, Prof. La Mer reported that potato starch and some similar agnts could be used to separate the finely-divided uranium from the slime. Today Prof. Charles O. Beckmann and Dr. Muriel Roger, also of Columbia, described a new chemical, a modified polyacrylamide, which was tailor-made to boost the yield 20 times higher by helping to separate water from finely-divided solid material.

Betty Crocker's Answer

Dear Betty Crocker,

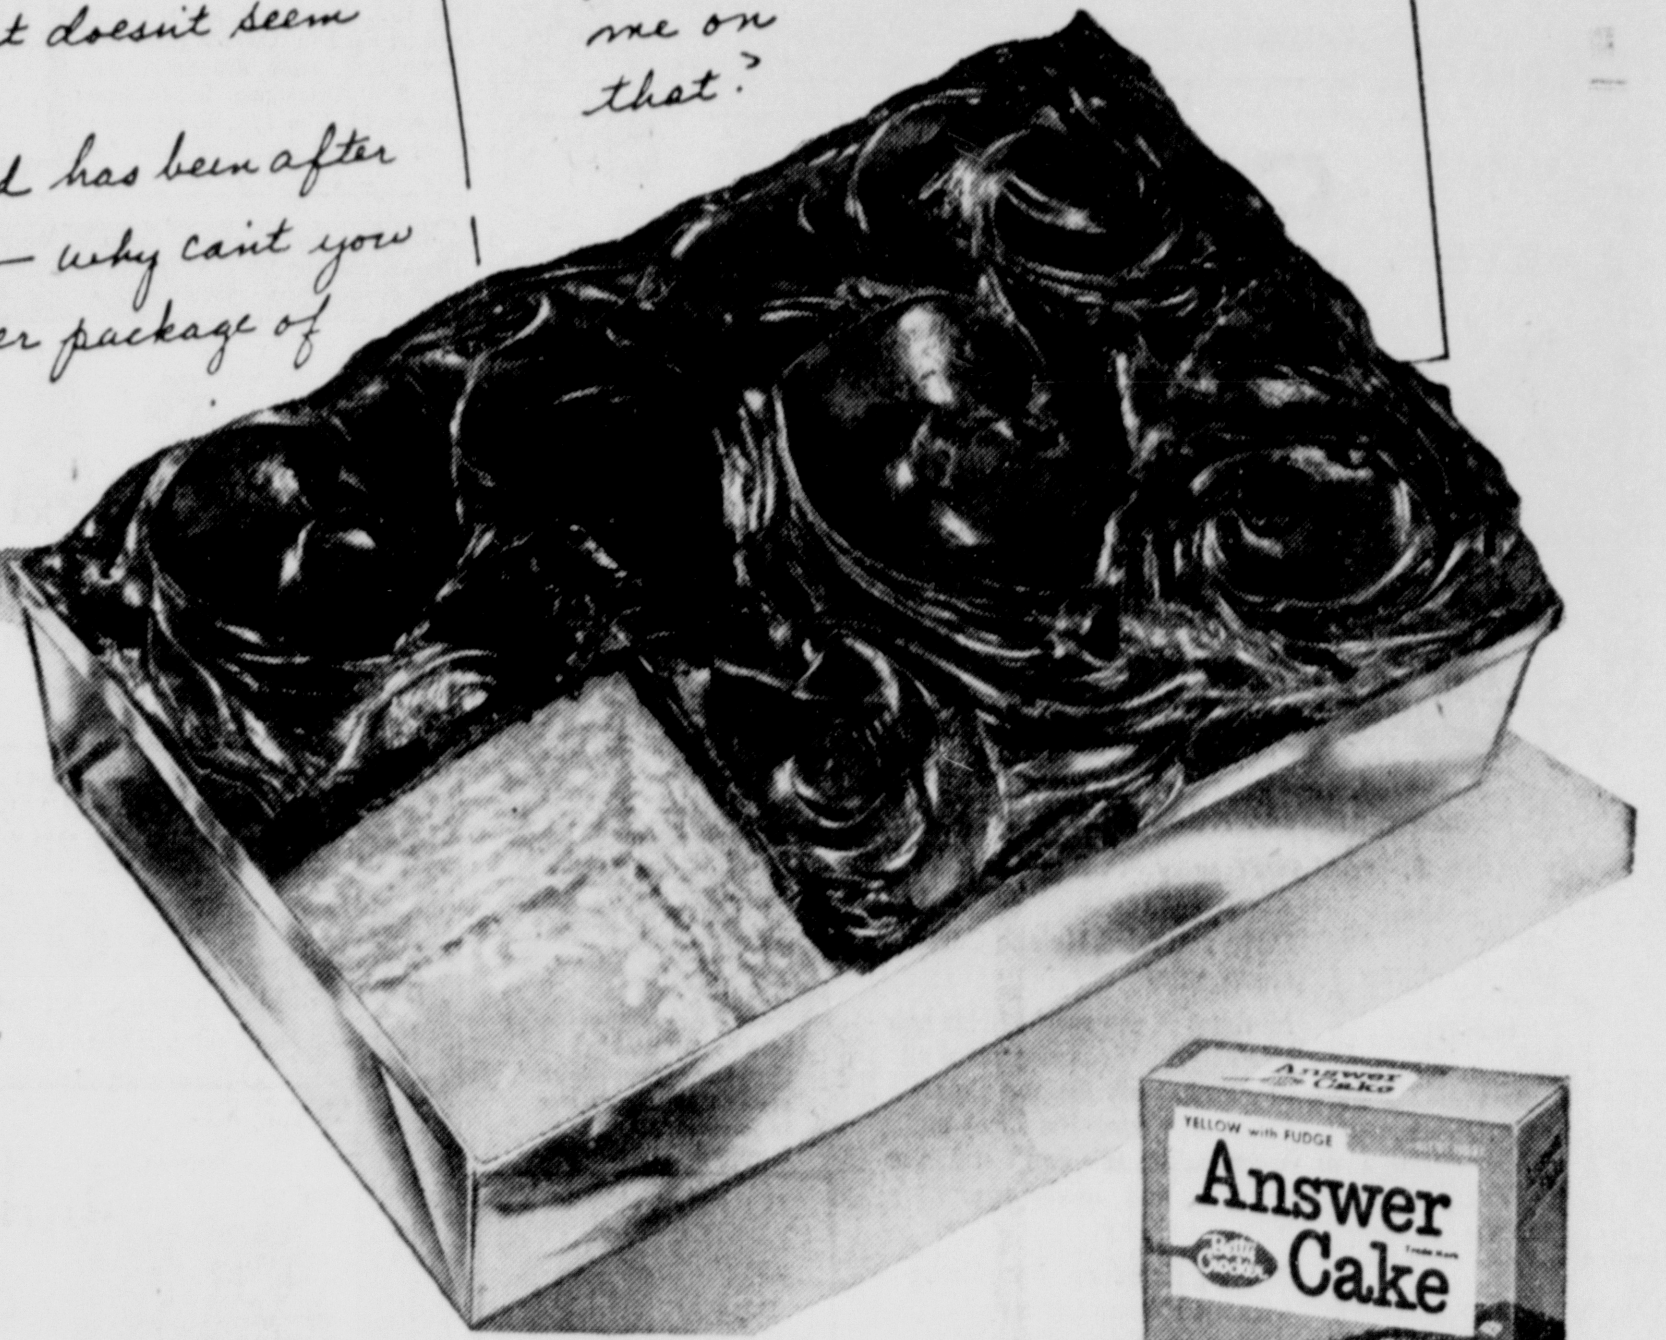

We are a working couple, so I really make use of everything that saves me time getting meals. Cake mixes have been a big help, but for the two of us a regular package of cake mix just makes too much cake. I've tried dividing a box of mix but that doesn't seem to work out.

My husband has been after me to ask you—why can't you make a smaller package of cake mix for families like ours? Surely there must be lots of others like us who would like to bake a smaller cake oftener.

Yours truly,
(Mrs.) Maria Clark
Chicago 49, Ill.

P.S. Incidentally, I have trouble with my frostings being grainy. Can you help me on that?

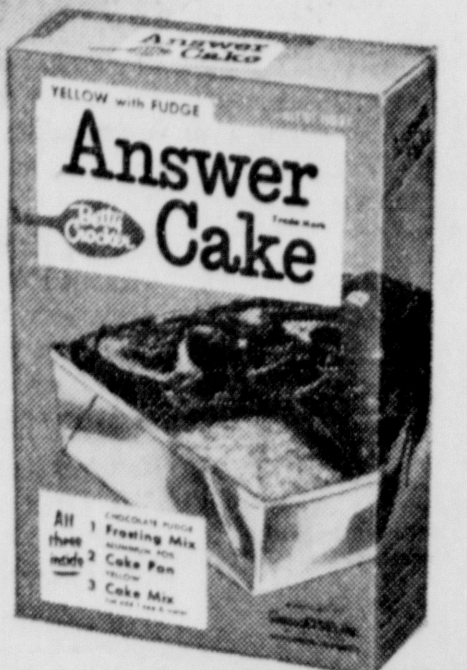

Many letters like this have been received by Betty Crocker

BETTY CROCKER OF GENERAL MILLS WRITES:

"This is my new Answer Cake—one of the most helpful cake ideas we have ever brought you. It's cake mix with its own frosting mix and cake pan all right in the same package. It makes a cake in a new six-serving size—just right for smaller families. We're proud of Answer Cake because it answers so many of your cake problems in a new and wonderful way. It's the newest, easiest way to bake and frost a cake. I think you'll find it a real help."

Negro Who Made Good Takes Federal Job To Help Explain America Abroad

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Leon E. Wright thinks he has an answer to Communist taunts that the Negro still has no chance to advance in this country.

Why not, he asks, let the people abroad meet a native Bostonian who was orphaned at 8, who got another jolt when his beloved grandmother died when he was 12, and yet who became a language expert, preacher, author and probably the first Negro ever to teach in a white graduate school in the South?

Why not, indeed?

So Dr. Leon Wright has signed on with the U. S. Information Agency to help explain this country abroad.

"I expect to emphasize the positive," Wright said today. "Sure, I have been discriminated against. But I also have had a lot of help, or I wouldn't be here."

Wright uses as an example one dark day when he was in high school. He was completely out of money, and had decided to drop out and go to work. He checked out with each teacher until he came to the last one.

"Why, Leon," he told me. "You can't do this. You're an A student. And he took me down to the principal's office, and finally it was arranged so I could stay in school."

When he graduated from high school, he tried out for the Harry E. Burroughs newsboy scholarship to Boston University.

"Most of my students are from the South," Wright said. "I think we have learned to love one another, not in the mushy sense but in the biblical meaning of the word, with mutual understanding and respect."

Wright doesn't know where he, his wife and two children will be sent, but he hopes it's to a spot where the Communists are hammering away on minorities. "That's where I can do the most good," he said.

As he talked, Wright kept fetching letters, books and newspaper clips — some of them dating back 25 years — from his briefcase.

"When you have no family to pat you on the back," he said, "you get into the habit of hanging on to these things. I'm a conservationist."

LOOKING INTO THE FUTURE, an artist of the London Sphere has drawn the type of space ship which may be built some day for interplanetary voyages. This ship, which is pictured nearing the moon, is designed to make a landing there. As there is no atmosphere on the moon, the landing will be made vertically on the thrust from the motors. Streamlining is unnecessary in space. Before such a vehicle could be built, many experiments would have to be made with the small projectiles being built by the United States to circle the earth

200 to 300 miles out in space. Research along this line will take many years, during which larger unmanned satellites may be built. If all goes well, and satisfactory means are found of overcoming the many hazards which are already known, and the man more which will doubtless come to light, then man may be able to embark on an interplanetary program. First, a space station must be established above the earth's atmosphere. From there, the space ship would be able to take off for its outer-space destination. (Central Press)

Pennsy Profits Show Big Gain

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad reported today that its 1955 profits are already three times greater than for the same eight-month period last year.

For the period ended Aug. 31 the PRR earned a net of $28,505,285 or $2.16 per share of common stock compared with $8,604,629 or 65 cents a share for the comparable 1954 period—or a gain of $19,900,656 this year.

In the month of August America's largest railroad reported earnings of $4,034,559 or 30 cents a share, compared with $3,301,611 for August, 1954.

This year's profits are running comparable with 1953 when the PRR, for the first eight months, earned $26,871,326. But in 1953 the railroad had gross revenues of $704,813,501 compared with revenues of only $609,637,780 this year.

A railroad spokesman said that the higher earnings, in relation to lower revenues, resulted from economies in labor and material effected during the past 12 to 15 months.

Winds Delay Sailing Of Supercarrier

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Sept. 20 (AP)—Fresh winds today caused a one-day postponement in the sailing of the supercarrier Forrester for preliminary acceptance trials off the Virginia coast.

The big flattop was to have sailed shortly after noon to resume the trials that were curtailed last month when main thrust bearings on two propeller shafts burned out because of faulty lubrication.

But Hurricane Ione left in her wake winds up to 25 m.p.h., which made the undocking of the 60,000-ton ship too risky, in the judgment of executives of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co., her builders, and Capt. Elliott D. Edwards, of the Virginia Pilot Assn., selected as her skipper for the sea trials.

The Forrester will sail tomorrow at 9 a.m.

County Meet Is Slated For Weight Plans

A conference will be held in the near future between the attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners and the city attorney for Cumberland over a proposal to have a weights and measure station for oil and gas trucks here.

L. J. Twigg, of the Queen City Oil Company, appeared before the commissioners yesterday to request such a program. He said a large number of gas and oil trucks deliver in the nearby West Virginia area and the cost of weighing and measuring the shipments in that state are extensive. Such procedure is required by law in West Virginia.

Twigg said if the weighing and measuring could be set up in Cumberland it could be done at a much lower cost. He also said the Standard Oil Company has agreed to furnish a measuring device for the program.

Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the county board, said he will consult with Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, on the proposal to determine what laws are on the books for weighing and measuring. The attorney general's office may also be contacted to obtain a ruling in the matter.

Getty said the suggestion has been made that a man be appointed to handle the weighing and measuring program. He also said that the city of Cumberland should be included in any plan devised.

Joseph T. Jenkins appeared before the board to request something be done about the damage to his water supply in connection with construction of the new road into the Mt. Savage School grounds. He said his well has been damaged due to the construction work. The matter was referred to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, for an investigation.

Deed For Water Line Is Filed

A deed was filed at the Court House yesterday by which the State Roads Commission and Board of Public Works is turning over ownership to an eight-inch water main to the LaVale Sanitary Commission.

The state paid $12,650.50 for the laying of the 1,600-foot long water main in 1953 when construction of the big State Roads Commission district offices, garage and equipment headquarters on the Bradock Road was started.

The line runs from Vocke Road to the SRC headquarters. The LaVale Sanitary Commission did not have funds at the time to construct the water line and the state assumed the cost with an agreement by the LaVale commission pay off the sum in installments. The water main can be utilized by residential and business houses in the area.

Thirteen Selectees Face Induction

Thirteen local men will leave October 13 for induction into the Armed Forces at Fairmont, W. Va. P. Emmett Fahey, clerk coordinator for the three Selective Service Boards, said yesterday that one man will be selected from Boards 27, six from Board 28 and six from Board 29.

Five men will leave with the group from Frostburg Board 30. The group will leave Cumberland at 7 a. m. by Eastern Greyhound Bus Lines and pickup the Frostburg group at 7:30 a. m.

Eleven local men and five Frostburg men will leave at the same time for physicals, Fahey said.

Beer License Is Opposed

A remonstrance was filed with the Allegany County Board of Alcohol Beverage License Commissioners yesterday by 95 residents of Ellerslie against issuance of a beer license to George Hawkins Sr. and Evelyn M. Hawkins in that community.

The petition states there is a beer license within 300 feet of the proposed license site, that the establishment now operated by the Hawkinses is a combination service center and confectionery. They say children frequent the establishment and that it is disorderly at times.

The board will hear the remonstrance October 4 at 10 a. m. at the Court House.

No decision was announced yesterday following the hearing on the remonstrance against issuance of a beer permit in Cresaptown.

A group of 77 residents of the community had filed the remonstrance against issuance of the license several weeks ago. Raymond Crowe, Methodist minister, was the spokesman for the remonstrants.

Harold E. Naughton was attorney for Evans at the hearing. The contention of the applicant is that a beer license had been in force at the bowling establishment previously and that his reputation and character were good.

Mrs. Lillian Easton was granted a beer permit for the K Bar at 1118 Virginia Avenue. The license was formerly held by Darby J. Healy.

A beer permit was also issued to Alexander Lashbaugh for premises at 70 Main Street in Lonaconing.

Civil Service Board Meets On Monday

The Civil Service Commission will hold its regular meeting Monday, September 26, at 7 p. m., in its office at City Hall. Wallace G. Ullery, secretary, announced yesterday.

Painting Of Church Here Is Nearing Completion

Painting of the "Old Town Clock Church"—First Christian Church, 312 Bedford Street — is nearing completion.

This project along with minor repairs is considered a major achievement by the small congregation, according to the Rev. Carl Johnson Jr., pastor. When possession was taken several years ago, the building was virtually abandoned and a landmark without much future. But the 100-year-old property is said by authorities of the Christian Board of Church Extension, Disciples of Christ, to be good for another 100 years and to have an approximate value of $100,000, Rev. Johnson added.

In addition to reclaiming the building, the congregation has purchased a parsonage which will be debt free in the next four years.

The Town Clock, which is not operating because of a breakdown, will be repaired and put in service as soon as possible, according to C. A. Fisher, board chairman.

The church will observe Promotion Day Sunday with children of

Ike Calls For Modernized Road System

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—President Eisenhower spoke out today for a modernized highway system and declared the country's economic growth "must not be stunted by a creeping paralysis of traffic."

The President called for support from a directly interested audience, the 53rd annual convention of the American Automobile Assn.

From his vacation headquarters in Denver Eisenhower sent a message asking the organization to "speak up again and again for prompt action on a highway system adequate for modern living."

Congress this year rejected the President's road-building recommendations, and administration leaders say highway legislation should be among the first items tackled next year.

Eisenhower proposed a special bond issue outside the national debt to finance a huge interstate highway network. Both that plan and another put forth by Democrats—providing for tax increases to expand the present system of footling road bills—were turned down.

About 700 delegates representing AAA's nearly five million members reported for the start of the three-day convention.

California led all other states in turkey production in 1954.

Auxiliary Discusses County Meeting

Announcement of the county executive meeting of the auxiliary was announced at the regular business session of the LaVale Firemen's Auxiliary. It is to be held September 22 at the Bedford Road fire hall.

Mrs. Leola Knierim presided and Mrs. Freda Nine led in prayer. Following the flag salute routine reports were given by Mrs. Flo Alexander, Mrs. Bessie Zembower and Mrs. Gladys Burkey. Members attending the state executive meeting were Mrs. Ann Kammauf, chairman of ways and means, Mrs. Vera Jewell, Mrs. Burkey, Mrs. Leola McClellan, and Mrs. Alexander; Mrs. Elda Schell, state president; and Mrs. Elizabeth Zembower, a member of the constitution and by-laws committee.

A games party followed the meeting. Hostesses for the September 23 meeting will be Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. McClellan and Mrs. Kammauf.

State Auxiliary Plans Spring Conference

A conference for April 19 was planned at the meeting of the executive board of the state Ladies Auxiliary to the Volunteer Firemen's Association, held recently in the Southern Hotel, Baltimore. The conference will be held in Baltimore to plan the state convention.

Two new auxiliaries were reported. One is Church Creek and the other Jacksonville. It was announced another auxiliary has been organized since June and four more joined the state organization.

Seven past presidents of 57 auxiliaries present were recognized. Members endorsed candidates who will be on the slate at the June 1956 convention to be held in Frederick. Approximately 200 members attended the meeting.

The North Cumberland Homemakers Club will celebrate its sixth anniversary with a dinner Thursday. It will be held in the recreation hall of Fairview Avenue Church at 6:30.

Carolina Hurricane Damage Estimated At 100 Million

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 20 (AP)—Official estimates of property losses ranged up to 100 million dollars today as eastern North Carolina surveyed the havoc wreaked by Hurricane Ione.

Ione, the third and worst storm to hit the area in a month, roared inland close to Morehead City, the state's second biggest port. In her wake she left flooded towns and cities, wrecked highways, battered and damaged buildings, and tangled communications and utilities systems.

She probably caused more damage in North Carolina than Hurricanes Connie and Diane combined. And, when the final reckoning is made, she may rank with last October's disastrous Hurricane Hazel.

Five dead were counted late today in North Carolina. The known dead: Frederick Alfred, 50, of Cash

Corner in Pamlico County. He was pinned in 14 inches of water when a chicken house blew over him.

Mote Gibbs, 30, Pamlico County Negro, who drowned.

William Champion, 71, Pamlico County, who suffered a fatal heart attack during the storm.

Alfred Saunders, 9, New Bern Negro lad who apparently stepped off his front porch into water over his head.

She died yesterday.

Deborah White, 1, daughter of farmers. For many of them this third punch from the Caribbean was a knockout blow.

The peanut crop, valued last year at 38 million dollars, apparently was the hardest hit. Corn, cotton, soybeans and yams also suffered heavily.

The most seriously flooded towns were New Bern, Washington, Beaufort, Morehead City and Elizabeth City.

Gen. Edward Griffin, state Civil Defense director, predicted the total loss would equal or surpass the $85 to 100 million dollars estimated for Connie and Diane combined.

Among the biggest losers were

W.Va. Colleges Hit Record Enrollment

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 20 (AP)—West Virginia's nine state-supported colleges are starting the new academic year with a record total enrollment, even surpassing the period shortly after World War II.

Secretary H. K. Baer of the State Board of Education reported today that, with some late registrations still to come, the September enrollment total at the nine colleges is the equivalent of 9,457 full-time students.

The figure is a 16.4 per cent increase over the September, 1954, total of 8,122. Baer pointed out that last year's figure had represented a 22 per cent increase over the previous year, compared with a national average increase of 11 per cent at that time.

The increase at Shepherd College was reported up 14.9 per cent over enrollment of a year ago, from 583 to 670.

The so-called cardinal number is the number itself.

Bigamist Gets Year In Jail

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Earle J. Besserer, 28-year-old dancing instructor, was given a one-year jail term today after he pleaded guilty to swearing falsely that he was single when he married his fifth wife.

Prosecutor Joseph G. Koutz gave this outline of Besserer's marital history:

1. Married Gloria Lane in Denver, Colo., in 1944 and divorced her in Texas.
2. Married Ann McGarity in Oklahoma City in 1948 and was divorced the following year.
3. Married Nancy T. McCarty in January, 1951, in Colorado and they had two children. There has been no divorce, Besserer told police, and the woman now lives in Detroit.
4. Married Alma Mae Nye in York, Pa., in January, 1954, and there has been no divorce.
5. Married Miss Lynne Storme, 26-year-old dancing teacher, in Maryland last April.

Fraud Suspect Is Indicted

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Joseph LaBlanc, ex-Baltimorean now living in St. Petersburg, Fla., was indicted today by a Federal Grand Jury on a combination of charges of mail fraud and attempted marriage fraud involving three women.

The 55-year-old man is also known as Joseph LaVelle. He is charged with obtaining a total of $8,550 from the women by fraudulent use of the mails.

The fraud victims were identified in the indictment as Mrs. Thelma Rockalman, Daytona Beach, Fla.; Mrs. Louella R. Pinkerton, Drexel Hill, Pa., and Mrs. Ellen Rogers Shaboh, Hyattsville, Md.

The indictment's 32 counts are based on letters and other communications to the women which LaBlanc allegedly mailed.

It charges that LaBlanc professed plans to marry the women and posed fraudulently as the owner of extensive property and as a government expert in the fields of atomic energy and guided missiles.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 20 (AP)—The federal government today sought a court order to destroy 46 slot machines confiscated by FBI agents two weeks ago in Southern Maryland.

Since it is illegal to sell them at auction or transport them across state lines, the government said, they should be condemned.

Doctors' Prescriptions And Medical Research

Each day in the United States doctors write more than a million prescriptions, 90 per cent of which could not have been filled 10 years ago. Such has been the swift pace of modern scientific research that medicines called for in the great bulk of today's prescriptions either were not known or were not readily available in 1945.

In the days after World War I, biological and medical research projects were modest undertakings. Now several pharmaceutical firms have research staffs numbering more than 500 persons. Further indication of the importance given this field is found in a survey made in 1953 which showed that 17 representative manufacturers of drugs were putting approximately five per cent of the dollar volume of sales into research.

On this basis it was calculated the industry as a whole was spending in excess of $100 million a year in quest of new medicinals.

Recent marketing experience of the industry reveals the tremendous risks which must be taken for progress. Time and time again companies which had invested heavily in plants or processes to produce new drugs saw their undertakings virtually wiped out by a single new development.

Not all research is productive in the field of pharmaceuticals. And once a new product promises to meet a medical need the task of checking and rechecking the product, its dosage, and the production process is slow and exacting. From 2 to 10 years may be required to develop and market a drug, during which period a newer discovery may render it obsolete.

These are but a few of the considerations which determine the cost of a prescription today. But expensive new drugs may actually save the public money. Those who had pneumonia 20 years ago went to the hospital. It took an average of three months' wages to pay the bills and other direct costs. Today, pneumonia is commonly treated at home with drugs costing only five hours' wages. The new drugs save lives as well as dollars. In those earlier days one out of every four pneumonia patients died; today, except among the very young and the very old, pneumonia is rarely fatal.

These Days

They Still Miss The Point

The contents of a motion picture have nothing to do with investigations into Communist infiltration in Hollywood. It is not the propaganda for Marxism that is being investigated but the Communist infiltration into the government and the organs of the people of the United States. These investigations have to do with the treasury of the Communist party, with the publicizing and advertising of Communist and other subversive individuals so that words spoken by them not on the screen but in public appearances and on circulars and petitions may make a great impression on the gullible because these personalities, often otherwise obscure and rarely with any intellectual background, have suddenly, by press agency, become celebrities.

Abstair Cooke, who writes for The Manchester Guardian, a British newspaper, says:

"Indeed, in Hollywood many of the Communists exposed, and convicted for contempt, were men whose professional talents had been devoted to preserving the sort of Hollywood dream-world which the Communists are so eager to shatter. Films that might have been justifiably suspect—the old pre-war sagas of persecuted fugitives from the great drought, miners with silicosis, Americans on the Loyalist side in Spain, vague bachelors against 'the system'—were apparently written by men without a hint or blemish of Communist membership. One wonders what would happen to the loyal Americans who made the stirring 'From Here to Eternity' and 'The Caine Mutiny' if the Russians were to welcome the showing of these films, these devastating criticisms of the American armed forces, as telling Communist propaganda, which from the European or the Russian point of view they might well turn out to be."

But what Cooke misses is that the contents of pictures are unrelated to the investigations. No investigators have even looked at the contents of pictures. No one was concerned with the contents of Charlie Chaplin's pictures; they were concerned with his contributions to the Communist treasury and the recruiting value of his important name. The fact that he never made a picture that was favorable to the United States is of no more significance than if he had. Pictures are strictly for a market. They are manufactured to earn money for their owners who generally are interested in little else. Were it not so, no one would have made a picture of such gross as the "Blackboard Jungle," which Dore Schary of MGM put forth as an example of American life, while he complains about restrictions upon civil liberties. One would have imagined that responsible citizenship means self-restriction and self-discipline.

But no one has tried to prevent Schary from giving his country a black eye in Europe by an exaggeration of an unfortunate situation, except Ambassador Clare Luce who managed to have it withdrawn from the Venice Film Festival. Schary may produce "Blackboard Jungles" to his heart's content and send them all over the world as examples of normal American living, which they are not any more than Rita Hayworth is an average American wife. These people live in a world of dramatic and intense exaggeration and make pictures as best they know how until a customer resistance appears and then they change their style to earn a buck. When they make money, they are courageous about their ideals; when the market is bad, they weep for mercy for their misdeeds.

When the Hollywood people or some of them also contribute huge sums and whatever prestige they have to building the Communist party in the United States, then they will be investigated and they may take the Fifth Amendment all they like. Fundamentally they have to choose between the box office and the Communist treasury. If they prefer the materialism of the box office, they will not employ those who have directly or indirectly associated themselves with the Communist party. If, on the other hand, they are capable of the self-sacrificing idealism of one who, believing in a cause, will give his all for it, then they will say, "To hell with the box office, we shall employ whom we please."

But they ought to be able to take the consequences of their decision without squealing and blubbering and putting on an act of outraged patriotism and liberalism. No one can be so noble, as these Hollywood folk pretend to be, and yet put out the mountain of debasing rubbish that they do.

Somebody Better Keep An Eye On The Chaperone

MacLean-Burgess Case Same Old Security Story

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — It's the same old story—inadequate laws and inadequate security measures to protect a nation against Communist agents and their dupes—which now startles the world as the facts come to light about the penetration made by Soviet spies into the British Foreign Office and the Australian Foreign Office.

For, just as Alger Hiss transmitted secrets from the U. S. Department of State, so did high officials in the British Foreign Office give them to Soviet agents. "Security risks" who should long before have been investigated were not carefully examined. Possibly it was because the atmosphere was poisoned by the specious claim that individual rights are sacrosanct—as if any individual rights could ever supersede the right of the state to protect itself against subversion, sabotage or treason.

It now is definitely established that Donald MacLean—who, up to May 25, 1951, occupied the American desk in the British Foreign Office—was a Soviet spy and month after month transmitted secret papers to the Soviet embassy.

Told By Petrov

Guy Burgess, who fled with MacLean to Moscow, was a second secretary in the British embassy in Washington and during his stay here had a 24-hour pass to the offices of the Atomic Energy Commission. He was secretary of an international committee of diplomats which dealt with atomic energy information.

For four years now it has been reported that the two men were behind the iron curtain, but the British Foreign Office never confirmed this. Now, from the pen of Vladimir Petrov, who defected from the Soviet embassy in Australia and told many details of the Soviet spy system, has come the first story from a Russian source about Messrs. MacLean and Burgess. It was revealed in a copyrighted article published in this country by "U. S. News & World Report." This is separate from the document issued by the Royal Commission of Australia last week giving Petrov's revelations on the Soviet spy system. But until the commission's report on Soviet espionage was released by the parliament in Australia, Petrov felt that he could not talk about the MacLean-Burgess case.

But Petrov himself declares that Second Secretary Kislytsin of the Soviet embassy in Australia had been in London and told him (Petrov) that he had handled the material supplied by Burgess. Petrov writes:

Parallels Hiss Relationship

"At this time Burgess was bringing out brief cases full of Foreign Office documents, which were photographed in the Soviet embassy and quickly returned to him. Kislytsin used to encipher the more urgent information and cable it to Moscow. The rest he prepared for dispatch by courier in the diplomatic bag."

This strangely parallels the relationship of Alger Hiss of the U. S. Department of State and Whittaker Chambers, whose "pumpkin papers" disclosed the documents he got from Hiss.

Two important questions arise in connection with the episode. One is why the British security system didn't function effectively. The other is what kind of information did MacLean and Burgess transmit and what possible effects there were on Soviet policy.

The theory advanced by Petrov is that MacLean and Burgess are today advising the Soviet government on how to handle Great Britain and the United States in the field of diplomacy. It may be that the whole Soviet "peace offensive" has its origin in the advice given by these two turncoat diplomats. They know the soft spots in the armor of the Western democracies. They have inside information about

Baering Down On The News

Thought that China had leveled off when Kai-shek measured himself for a large island.

Secretary Dulles thought so too when he put his chopsticks back in the scabbard. And shook the rice out of his shopping portfolio.

Kai-shek has been on Formosa so long we forgot he was a generalissimo. With an armissimo but no navissimo.

That's why we were surprised when Kai-shek announced he was all set to go like a bob-sled on a hill.

He's not going to wait for the U.N. ear-phones to dial his number. He's saddled his jinrikisha and is headed for the mainland.

The generalissimo announces he's running as independent as a leak.

He figures he can start a war he can sell to Hollywood.

How about Chiang's navissimo? The invasion will start when he's on the junk.

State Department Not Much Help In Check On Sales Of War Arms

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Correspondence on arms is continuing between the Egyptian embassy and the Phoenix International Company whose sales slogan is "implements of war our specialty."

Meanwhile, this column has queried the State Department in some detail as to why the American public is not permitted to know what arms are being sold by private brokers to stir up war in the Middle East.

Robert N. Margrave, deputy director of the State Department's Office of Munitions Control, was not very enlightening.

"The last time that information was made available to the public was in 1941," said Margrave. "Within this government those figures are treated as classified."

"What do you mean 'treated as classified'?" Are the figures classified or do you just 'treat' them as classified?

Margrave gave a long and complicated explanation about the necessity of protecting private companies. He finally said, however, that the State Department's Office of Munitions Control reports to Congress and that Congress can publish the figures if it wishes.

"There has been no change in this policy since about 1790," said Margrave. "This government has always regarded any shipment of arms to be fraught with political significance."

"How long has the classification policy been in effect?"

"Since 1835."

"You mean since 1835 the State Department has denied the press access to figures on arms shipments, even though the State Department has the power to control such shipments in a manner approaching intervention in foreign disputes?"

Replied Margrave: "We prefer a positive way of stating it. It has been privileged information since 1835."

NOTE — The suppression of information regarding arms shipments began during the Spanish civil war in 1935 when shipments were made to revolutionaries seeking to overthrow the Spanish government — namely, Franco. At that time the State Department sided with Franco and did not want news of arms shipments made public.

Secret Letter To Egyptians

Meanwhile, here is another secret letter written by W. H. Evans Jr., vice president of the Phoenix International Company, to the Egyptian embassy, proposing more purchases of arms:

"Mrs. Doud
Office of Syria
2215 Wyoming Ave. N. W.
Washington, D. C.

"Dear Madam:

Enclosed are the invoices as requested. Also two sets of something of interest for the colonel — one set for the colonel's files and one set for Damascus.

Will see you next week with something for Colonel Chatra. Please give him my regards.

Most sincerely
W. H. Evans Jr.
V. P. & P. A.

Evans previously had offered to sell 1,000 British Sten guns and 140 German machine guns to the Egyptian army, and made a special point that some of these machine guns could use Israeli ammunition. Therefore, he argued, the Egyptians could raid Israeli lines, capture their ammunition, and fire it back.

Cheese Still Smells

It has now been several weeks since the comptroller general ruled that Secretary Benson's cheese deal was illegal. However, the Agriculture Department is still sitting tight and has taken not a single step to recover the $2,500,000 lost by Uncle Sam to the big cheese manufacturers.

Meanwhile, Congressman L. H. Fountain of North Carolina is getting madder by the minute, and may appeal to public opinion to force Secretary of Agriculture Benson to act.

He has now learned that the purchase and resale of cheese was first proposed to the House Agriculture Committee on March 19, 1954, by a top borden official named W. A. Wentworth. Agriculture Department lawyers immediately considered Wentworth's idea, but decided it was illegal. The Justice Department also found the Wentworth plan illegal.

Nevertheless, within a few days, the Agriculture Department went ahead anyway and adopted plan DA1112, under which they bought the cheese. This was almost identical to the Wentworth plan.

Congressman Fountain may hold new hearings to discover whether the Department of Agriculture's action in overruling its own lawyers and the Justice Department was influenced by two cheese industry men who were members of Secretary Benson's cheese advisory council. They were Daniel M. Dent of Borden and Arthur W. Sigmund of Kraft.

Mediterranean War

A potentially ugly blow-up is brewing in the Mediterranean as Greece and Turkey, both allied in the Western-Balkan pact, exchange insults over the future of the island of Cyprus.

This situation has been permitted to drift until both countries are at each other's throats threatening to renew their historic hatred and rivalry for supremacy in the region. Greek Ambassador George Malas has warned the State Department his government does not intend to sit idly by without answering the recent attacks on Greek churches and property in Turkey. Malas stormed into the State Department and lectured Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. for nearly two hours last week, pounding the desk and accusing the United States of wenching on promises to help Greece win independence for Cyprus with its four-fifths Greek population.

State Department officials listened, but made no concrete commitments. Meanwhile, a band of Greek extremists is plotting to attack Turkish property in Greece.

The Faith Healers

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK —(INS)—Television is a strange medium which frowns on such profanity as "Dam' Yankees" and encourages "Heck's Bells" and "Golly's in his Heaven." Yet it accepts the obscene likes of so-called "faith healers."

One man who is trying to ride the air of heartbreak caused by these ecclesiastical quacks is Rev. Carroll R. Stegall Jr., pastor of the Pryor Street Presbyterian Church of Atlanta.

The reverend bows to no man in his respect for the power of prayer but when it is used as a gimmick at a televised revival meeting at which the hat is passed, Stegall explodes with righteous eloquence.

"The modern pentacostal claim that they (healers) have recovered the apostolic gift of miraculous healing is a fraud," Stegall writes in "The Presbyterian Outlook." They have, instead, manufactured a new cult, using the age-old tricks of suggestion and psychological cant.

Learned The Hard Way

So far from glorifying God with this, they cause his name to be blasphemed among the worldly by their excesses. So far from curing, they often kill. Far from blessing their arrival in a city is rather a curse, a misery, a racket, a destruction of faith in simple people."

The reverend did his research the hard way. Atlanta police arrested him for "disturbing public worship"—he was taking notes and interviewing the halt, lame and blind at one of the healing orgies.

What about the genuinely sick, the actually disabled who appear at the meetings? Mr. Stegall writes:

"The answer is shocking. No healer will come near any really crippled or disabled person at all if he can possibly avoid it. I have seen many desperate cases at every meeting I have attended . . . Night after night they are avoided like the plague. When pressed for an explanation, the healers profess to be able to discern those who have faith—which is never found the abdominal glands.

Tuberculosis Death Rate Reduced 75 Per Cent

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

The death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced 75 per cent during the past 10 years. This was accomplished in an orderly, scientific fashion without special press releases and television programs. The medical profession was informed periodically of the progress being made and what could be expected from the different remedies as they were introduced.

The three drugs that remain on top of the list are streptomycin, PAS, and isoniazid. These products are more effective when used in pairs such as streptomycin and PAS or isoniazid and streptomycin. Of the three combinations, the first is a shade less effective than the others.

The surgical treatment of tuberculosis also deserves credit for the lowered mortality in this disease. In the last decade our chest surgeons have learned to remove infected parts of the lungs. But the new anti-tuberculosis drugs have helped make the operation successful.

It is dangerous to cut into diseased tissue but the organisms can be subdued by using streptomycin, PAS, or the isoniazids.

These agents are used from three to six months prior to surgery and have added considerably to the safety of the procedure. The results speak for themselves as tubercle bacilli disappear from the sputum in more than 90 per cent of those who have undergone lung resections of this type.

Modern drugs also have proved effective in other types of the disease. Before 10 years ago, 50 per cent of victims of bone tuberculosis died; now the mortality rate is less than 19 per cent. Military tuberculosis invariably was fatal, whereas in a recent report on 69 cases, 48 still are alive.

The same can be said of primary tuberculosis in children. Researchers in this field are now turning their attention to grown-ups with inactive tuberculosis and to children in whom the tuberculin skin test recently became positive. These problems need fuller exploration.

In days gone by, many patients got well by remaining in bed for months or years. This speaks for the value of rest in tuberculosis. As a result, rest frequently is used as a starting point of management. Meanwhile, the anti-tuberculosis drugs are administered.

The regimen generally is carried out in a sanatorium where nurses and physicians are better able to watch the progress of the disease and the effects of treatment. With

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Lucius Beebe, official historian of Nevada's fabulous Virginia City and all surrounding territory, tells of two cowboys who recently revived the code of the old West and opened fire on the broad highway in the bang-bang Jesse James tradition. These cowpokes were not very good shots, but bystanders sought shelter hastily beneath hot-dog stands, 1955 two-toned sedans, and a delivery wagon full of laundry.

Several bullets lodged in the laundry bundles, and one local wit declared that for the first time in laundering history, the proprietor had a legitimate excuse for the condition in which he returned his customers' shirts.

Life in Nevada, says Beebe, is like this: One ancient met another who was toting under his arms two loaves of bread and six bottles of whisky.

"Land's sake, Lem," he marveled, "What in heck you gonna do with all that bread?"

The charming person has special talents, and all of them can be learned

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

It's been said so often — that mean great pains with her groom- ing, great care to achieve and taking pains. It's true, too, that keep her best figure proportions, the charming person has a special posture and graceful movement, capacity for taking pains. intelligent development of her best voice and speech.

A charming person takes pains to be extra courteous, to be espe- cially understanding, to do and to give more than is asked. She goes to the trouble of thinking beyond herself, of reaching out to others into awareness of their individual feelings. She's alert to the oppor- tunity to put a shy person at ease, to relieve an uncomfortable situa- tion, to make any experience more pleasant. She makes the graceful extra gesture, performs the plus service. She says the encouraging and cheerful word that so often goes unsaid.

And of course, a charming wo- man's high standards for herself in us all is a charm potential — that the wonder-working qualities of charm can be cultivated to bloom.

Fires in the United States every year take a toll of more than 10,000 lives.

Marines Vs. Army Warfare

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—Warfare, paper variety, has broken out in the Pentagon between the Marines and the Army over who shoots best. So far its a standoff.

Rival press releases declared the National Rifle Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, showed Army marksmen "the best shooters in the country" and that "Marine Corps rifleman proved they were the best" by capturing the national team trophy match.

Frank Daniel, secretary of the National Rifle Assn., climbed on the fence to say: "There's some justification to both claims. Per- haps five years.

More than $2,600,000,000 has been spent on new religious structures in the United States in the last five years.

River Dredging At Piedmont Is Delayed By Lone

Held Up When Dam Water Released

PIEDMONT — The work of cutting a channel in the Potomac River in the lower end of the city was suspended during preparations for possible heavy rains in the wake of "lone" Mayor Rodney Baker stated at the regular meeting of the City Council Monday evening.

Work with the power shovel was started Monday morning but after water was released from the Savage River Dam the dredging work was temporarily discontinued.

It was also announced at the council meeting that two feet of water had been released from the Stoney River Dam, but it was anticipated in would take some time for it to reach Piedmont.

Mayor Baker stated that the dredging of the river was a city project exclusively. Piedmont will not receive any money from the state or the federal government but the entire expense in helping to elevate the flood danger is being borne entirely by the city.

Besides cutting a channel in the river the flood wall is being repaired, he said.

The council also authorized the mayor to inspect all sewers which need repairs and to have such repairs made where needed.

Also, the mayor will inspect the swimming pool and make necessary recommendations for repairs there.

The city clerk, Ormond Ledlow, was authorized to send several parking meters to the meter company for overhauling.

It also was ordered that necessary uniforms for Piedmont policemen be purchased from Schwarzenbach and Sons, Cumberland, at the price quoted at $322.

It was agreed that the fence in front of the home of Mrs. C. A. Wilcox, East Hampshire Street, which was damaged some time ago when a city truck ran into it, will be repaired.

Mayor Baker gave a report of a meeting of the disaster committee of the county which met in the council chamber Friday evening, Sept. 16, and authorized the setting up a control center in Keyser.

Yankees Trim Senators Twice, Cleveland Tops Chicago

Leaders Boost Win String To Seven Games

Fumbling Washington Club Drops Day And Night Tilts, 6-3, 9-7

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The New York Yankees, running their winning streak to seven, stormed two giant steps closer to the American League championship tonight with a pair of victories over the fumbling Washington Senators, 6-3 and 9-7.

The first game of the day-night affair was a breeze for the Yankees but the second was a real thriller as the Senators rallied for six runs in the last two innings and Casey Stengel sent in four relief pitchers in an effort to stem the suddenly reversed tide.

Byrne Ends Fuss
Tommy Byrne, the fifth Yankee pitcher, finally ended the fuss by getting Pete Runnels on an out-field fly.

By winning two, the Yankees took a temporary three-game lead over the runner-up Cleveland Indians, who were playing the Chicago White Sox in a night game at Chicago. The Yankees had five left to play, the Indians four and Cleveland already had lost three more to New York.

Washington's rookie right fielder, Carlos Paula, was the Yankees' best weapon in the night game. He played a routine line drive into a double in a three-run third and kicked a bases-loaded single into a three-run wallop and misjudged a hard line that went for a triple in the six-run seventh.

Whitey Ford, who won his 18th game in the nightcap, was breezing along behind a four-hitter when he caved in during the eighth. He had retired 13 men in a row before he walked the leadoff hitter, Tommy Umpthell.

Jim Lemon Hits Homer
Pinch hitter Jim Lemon, just up from Chattanooga, socked a two-run homer and when, with one out, Ford walked two men in a row, Stengel began his parade of pitchers.

The first game was a lot easier. The Yankees socked starter and loser Mickey McDermott for three runs in the first and breezed home behind the fine relief pitching of Tom Morgan and Jim Konstanty.

It was initiated by equipment custodian Carl Roberts in 1946.

NORBECK, Md., Sept. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore led a parade of favorites into the second round of the Maryland State Women's Golf Championship at Manor Club today, defeating Georgia Mae McKeever of Argyle, 6 and 5.

Mrs. Glick, 8-time champion from the Woodholme Club, needed par in for a 75 when the match ended on the 13th green. The winner was three up at the turn.

Two members of the Baltimore delegation and the lone Cumberland player lost in the first round. Mrs. Frank Cuth of Argyle, last year's runnerup, won the last hole by a pair four to defeat Mrs. J. W. Y. Martin of Green Spring Valley, 1 up.

Mrs. C. E. Richards of the Country Club of Maryland defeated a fellow Baltimorean, Midge Kaufman of Woodholme, 4 and 3.

Mrs. William Bibby of Cumberland lost, 3 and 2, to Mrs. John Barry, the home-club champion. Tomorrow's quarterfinal features are between Mrs. Glick and Mrs. Barry, and the 1955 and 1954 district champions, Mrs. E. C. Ferri of Chevy Chase and Lucille Busch, USAF, of Argyle. Mrs. Ferriday was 2 down after nine holes but defeated Mrs. J. P. Troughaud of Kenwood, 2 and 1.

Cards Blank Cubs

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—A first-inning two-run homer by Solly Hemus and some stinky relief pitching by Harvey Haddix was all the St. Louis Cardinals needed to-night for a second straight victory over the Chicago Cubs, 2-0.

Numbering System

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. — West Virginia University was one of the first schools in the East to adopt the popular numbering system for football players. The system makes it easier for fans and sports writers alike to identify a player. All quarterbacks are in the 10's, left halfbacks 20's, fullbacks 30's, right halfbacks 40's, ends 50's, tackles 70's, guards 60's and centers 50's. It was initiated by equipment custodian Carl Roberts in 1946.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—George Hughes, who had announced his retirement from pro football, has changed his mind. The former William and Mary lineman has rejoined the Pittsburgh Steelers for his sixth campaign in the National Professional League.

Wynn Scores 3-2 Decision Over Pierce

Tribe Loses Ground Despite Win; Trails Yanks 2 1/2 Games

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—The desperate Cleveland Indians ended a week-long victory famine tonight, eliminating the Chicago White Sox from the American League pennant race with a 3-2 triumph.

The Indians nonetheless lost ground to the pace-setting New York Yankees who stretched their lead over Cleveland to two and a half games with a day-night doubleheader sweep in Washington.

Any combination of three Yankee wins or Cleveland defeats now would clinch the flag for the Yankees, who have five games to play to four for the Indians.

Tonight's victory assured the Indians of at least a tie for second place in the American League.

Bobby Avila's three-bagger with two out and two mates aboard in the eighth inning broke up a 1-1 pitching duel between Early Wynn and Billy Pierce and ended a four-game losing streak for the Tribe. It was Wynn's 17th victory against 11 defeats as Pierce dropped his 11th decision in 24. It was the hard-luck southpaw's fourth loss to Cleveland, two by 1-0 scores.

Giants Clobber Bucs Twice, Mays' Homer Total Hits 50

Willie Ties Record In 11-1, 14-8 Games

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Willie Mays matched a major league record with his 49th and 50th home runs of the season today as the New York Giants clobbered the Pittsburgh Pirates in an explosive doubleheader 11-1 and 14-8.

The two shots gave the 24-year-old New York centerfielder seven homers in six consecutive games. That matched the record set by the Giants' George Kelly in 1924.

Oddly enough, the only other player ever to do it also was a member of the Giants. Walker Cooper made it with New York in 1947.

The first homer of the day for Willie Touched off a five-run first inning in the opener. The Giants rolled in from there, getting home runs from Don Mueller and Ray Katt as well in a 19-hit attack. Johnny Antonelli won his 14th against 16 defeats on an eight-hitter—one Frank Thomas' 24th homer. Vern Law was the loser.

In the nightcap, Whitey Lockman and Hank Thompson joined Mays in the homer hammering while the Giants put together 16 hits. Hoyt Wilhelm won in relief.

Brooklyn Cops Two From Phils, 6-3, 6-1

Roberts Tagged For 13th Defeat

BROOKLYN, Sept. 20 (AP)—Robin Roberts, Philadelphia's dandy right-hander, gave up his 39th and 40th home runs of the season to set a major league record tonight as Brooklyn's National League champions swept a two-night doubleheader from the Phillies, 6-3, and 6-1.

Roberts, tagged with his 13th defeat against 23 victories, was clipped by the record breaking homer by George Shuba in the seventh inning of the nightcap.

It was Shuba's first of the year, but it cracked the gopher ball record set by Murry Dickson in 1948 when he gave up 39 homers while pitching for the St. Louis Cardinals. Dickson, now with the Phils, was the first game loser tonight.

Roberts, the winningest pitcher in the majors once again this season, tied the mark in the third inning when he tossed a home run ball to Frank Kellert.

The two clouts gave the Dodgers 201 home runs, tops in the majors this season.

Rookie Roger Craig won his fifth, shutting out the Phils until the ninth.

It was Shuba's pinch, two-run double that broke up a 3-3 tie in the eighth for the Dodgers' first game victory.

Dickson, now 12-11, had limited the National League champions to just one hit over the first six innings, out-dueling Don Newcombe, the Dodgers' 20-game winner.

Empty Threat Of Hurricane Causes Delay

Rocky Remains 17-5 Favorite; Starting Time Is 10:45 EDT

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Rocky Marciano and Archie Moore, sidelined for 24 hours by the empty threat of Hurricane Irene, weighed in heavier than expected today for Wednesday's heavyweight title bout at Yankee Stadium.

Irene scared Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, into announcing a one-day postponement. Shortly after the noon weigh-in, the sun peeked through and the skies cleared. It would have been possible to have held the fight as Irene sliced out to sea. Both the Giants and Dodgers played ball games as scheduled.

Hundreds of calls from out-of-town buyers who wanted to be sure before they left home prompted Norris to order the postponement because of the "uncertainty" of the weather. "We are assured Wednesday night will be perfect," he said.

The weather man predicted Wednesday would be fair with the thermometer hitting the 75 degree mark.

Time Is Changed
Because the fight falls on Wednesday night it will be pushed back 15 minutes to 9:45 p. m. (EST) to avoid conflict with the usual Wednesday television show, a mid-weight bout at Miami between Bobby Dykes and George Johnson.

There will be no change in arrangements for the big bout, except the new starting time. The bout will not be seen on home television but will be beamed into 128 theaters in 92 cities and four veterans' hospitals on theater network television. It also will be carried on network (ABC) radio. IBC officials reported the advance sale was "between $650,000 and $700,000" with few refunds asked. Promised a perfect day for the fight, they hoped to sell an additional $150,000 worth of tickets at the gate. It appeared that the original estimate of 50,000 people and $750,000 might be topped, despite the postponement.

Marciano, unbeaten in his 48-bout career, remained a 17-5 favorite to blunt the bid of the 38-year-old lightweight king, after the weigh-in and postponement. Marciano weighed 188½, and Moore 188. Under New York rules there won't be any second weigh-in unless there is a 48-hour postponement.

Marciano Is Relaxed
Marciano appeared to be more relaxed than Moore. Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the New York State Athletic Commission, who examined both, said Moore "seemed a little on edge, more than before the Olson fight." Of course, as the Olson fight turned out (a third round knockout victory for Moore) he didn't have much to be on edge about that night.

Dr. Nardiello said Marciano was "the same old usual cool cucumber." He doubted if the 24-hour delay would affect either man.

PREVIEW OF THE BIG BOUT — Challenger Archie Moore, left, and heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano square off in Madison Square Garden lobby for the benefit of the cameras. They are scheduled to meet at Yankee Stadium tonight after the threat of Hurricane Irene cause postponement of the title go, originally set for last night. The bout will get under way at 10:45 Eastern Daylight Time. (AP Wirephoto)

Beall And Keyser To Play Saturday

Coach Fred "Tack" Clark of Keyser High School yesterday announced that the Beall-Keyser game will be played as originally scheduled on Saturday at 2 p. m. in Keyser and will not be shifted to Frostburg Friday night nor staged here Friday afternoon as reported.

Beall sought to have the game transferred to Frostburg Friday night or was willing to play in Keyser Friday afternoon so that coaches could have Saturday free to attend the UCLA-Maryland game at College Park.

Eagles Trade Vaught

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles today asked waivers on guard William Horrell, formerly of Michigan State.

The National Football League club also announced it had traded rookie Ted Vaught, Texas Christian end, to the San Francisco 49ers for a draft choice to be announced later. The two moves reduced the Eagles' roster to 35.

Study Our Methods

Tunao Inouye, Director of the Japanese Racing Association, here to study administrative methods of American horse racing, was a recent visitor to the offices of the TRA and the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau where he expressed particular interest in the lip-tattoo method of horse identification developed by the TRPB.

Noorsaga Wins Cowdin Stakes

Busher Fantasy Is Disqualified

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Mrs. C. Ulrick Bay's Noorsaga won the 33rd running of the $29,675 Cowdin Stakes with an assist from the stewards as Aqueduct Race Track ended its 20-day meeting.

After the running of the six and a half furlong stake for 2-year-olds, Maine Chance Farm's Busher Fantasy, ridden by Willie Shoemaker, won by three quarters of a length over Noorsaga, who took the place by a nose over Howell E. Jackson's Tick Tock. Six lengths back came C. V. Whitney's The Goon.

However, Willie Boland, who rode Tick Tock claimed interference by Busher Fantasy leaving the three sixteenth pole and the stewards upheld his claim after viewing films of the race. The movies also showed Tick Tock getting bounced by Noorsaga just before the finish, but the stewards held that this foul was a result of Busher Fantasy's jamming.

The official placing gave the $20,650 purse to Noorsaga, a son of Noor-Sequence, who was handled by Eric Guerin.

Given but lukewarm support in the wagering by the getaway day crowd of 15,253, Noorsaga returned mutuels of $21.30, $6.10 and $5.50. Tick Tock paid $3.50 and seven previous starts, was purchased for $37,000 at the Keeneland yearling sales by Mrs. Bay. Noorsaga, who had a maiden race and an allowance test in former ambassador to Norway.

Nashua To Face Handicap Aces

Opposes Jet Action, High Gun, Helioscope

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—The $100,000-added Sysonby Stakes Saturday at Belmont Park is shaping up as a duel between 3-year-old Nashua and three of the biggest names in the handicap racing division.

Officials look for no more than four horses to go postward in the mile and one eighth test that probably will determine the No. 1 American champion of 1955.

But, with High Gun, Helioscope and Jet Action, all 4-year-olds, slated to oppose Nashua, Belmont is quite satisfied it has collected the finest field of horses now in training.

Under weight-for-age conditions, Nashua will pack 121 pounds in the race to be televised and broadcast (ABC) from 3:15-3:30 p. m. EST. The King Ranch's High Gun, William G. Helis, Jr.'s Helioscope, and the Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action all will have 126 pounds.

Match Is Postponed

The Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League match scheduled here Thursday night between the Fort Ashby VFW and the Good-fellowship Club has been postponed by mutual agreement.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20.—(INS)—How wonderful that Gail Russell is so far recovered that she's able to sign a contract with John Wayne's company, Batjac Productions, to star in "Seven Men From Now" with Randy Scott.

This is a great piece of news that Gail has overcome her troubles and is far enough recovered to stage this comeback.

She owes this chance to both Duke Wayne and his favorite director, Bill Wellman, who made Gail's test for the role. They are both fond of Gail, who made two of John's best pictures with him, "Angel and The Bad Men," and "Wake Of The Red Witch." This is surely a great personal victory for Gail and we'll all be waiting to see her on the screen.

Jane Wyman, whose daughter Maureen is tall, blonde and very lovely, had a real wrench when Maureen went east to school.

"I miss her already," Jane told me, "but I thought it would do her good to go to Marymount in Tarrytown. I'm so busy with TV. Of course, I'll see her at Christmas when I go east to spend the holidays, and I'll take Michael with me."

I asked Jane if being so busy with TV means she's giving up her motion picture career.

"Not at all," she said. "I'll spend six months making TV films and six months making motion pictures. You can't do both at the same time."

"The Tall Men" has all the ingredients of a "Gone With The Wind" plus its romance, and a Clark Gable we haven't seen on the screen in many and many a day. His role of the hard-hitting, hard-living Texan, Ben Alston, who learned about men and their ways during the Civil War, is a performance we'll remember—he is the old lusty Gable.

The team of Jane Russell and Clark Gable is down-to-earth, human and exciting. Jane looks well, sings well, and is at her best as an actress in "The Tall Men." The picture may be road-showed by 20th. Much credit goes to the producers, William Bacher and William Hawks, as well as to Director Raoul Walsh, who hasn't been as good in many a day.

Snapshots: Betty Grable startling the diners at the Bantam-Cook with her new brunette hair—and very becoming. She was with the Harry Ritzes.

Elizabeth Montgomery is so good in "The Billy Mitchell Court Martial" that she has Milton Sperling and Mervyn Le Roy both wanting her for a picture.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

India has about one motor vehicle for every 1,000 people.

School Patrol Belts Ordered

Arthur G. Ramey of the Board of Education has notified the Allegany County Board of Commissioners that he has ordered equipment for members of the School Patrol.

The county pays for the equipment each year. Ramey has ordered 335 patrol belts, 400 patrolman badges, 70 lieutenant badges and 40 captain badges.

A letter was also received from John F. Kammauf of Cresaptown asking the board to have a dangerous condition along the Brant Road corrected. He said the road is narrow and there is a ditch along one side which poses a problem. The matter was referred to J. Walker Chapman, roads supervisor.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, wrote the board that Mrs. Betty Malloy, bacteriologist with the Health Department, is taking a year's leave of absence. Miss Geraldine Wolfe will be bacteriologist on a temporary basis. Dr. Frantz said. Catherine J. Murray is also being employed on a temporary basis as a laboratory helper.

Gains Shown In Bank Debits

Bank debits to individual accounts continue to exceed those of last year, a report of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond for the Fifth District shows.

For the first seven months, debits amounted to $176,775,000 compared to $162,943,000 the same period of 1954. In July of this year, debits totaled $25,968,000 compared to $25,155,000 the same month a year ago.

Utility, Hospital Heads Will Plan For Chest Drive

Meeting Scheduled At Noon Today

Heads of the public utilities and hospitals in Cumberland will meet today at noon in the Fort Cumberland Hotel with Robert E. Barnard, chairman of the classified division of the 1955-56 Community Chest Drive.

Charles L. Kopp, general campaign chairman, said these officials will discuss the effort to be made next month in those industries and institutions.

Kopp observed that the classified section solicitors will strive for all businesses and plants having eight or more employees to provide the payroll deduction plan for Community Chest contributions.

He pointed out that it is much easier for the employee to contribute a small amount each week or each month through the payroll deduction plan.

In the long run, through this system, the individual will be supporting the community project and nine Red Feather agencies to a greater degree than he would through a lump sum donation.

Barnard said training meetings have been set up for the volunteer workers in his section on four days next week.

Next Tuesday, sections C, D and F will meet; Wednesday, sections E and G, and Thursday, section H, and Friday, sections I and J, all in room 204 of the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

At Monday's kickoff meeting of the advance gifts section, James W. Bishop, chairman of that division, said its goal has been set at $65,000.

This year's drive is for a minimum of $125,974, a high but realistic figure, Kopp told the advance group. All budgets of the nine agencies have been cut to the bone, he observed.

Twenty-five per cent of the increase represents the Community Chest welcoming back the Salvation Army.

Men Of LaSalle Plan Minstrel

The first tryouts for the annual minstrel sponsored by Men of LaSalle will be held today at 7 p. m. in Carroll Hall, according to Edward Neus, director of the production.

All interested persons wishing to take part in this year's minstrel are asked to attend tonight's meeting. The minstrel will be presented during the month of November, Neus added.

A meeting of Men of LaSalle will be conducted Thursday at 8 p. m. on the third floor of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus. Presiding at the first meeting of the fall season will be Norman F. Geatz Jr. Important business will be discussed and all members are urged to attend.

S. A. Staff Chief Plans Area Rally

Several members of the Salvation Army here are expected to attend the United Salvation Rally which will be held in Washington September 28 and 29 by Commissioner Edgar Dibden, London, chief of staff of the Salvation Army.

Capt. Daniel Biggs, commander of the Citadel, said local members of the Salvation Army Advisory Board are invited to attend a luncheon meeting planned in the commissioner's honor by the Washington advisory board September 29 at 12:15 p. m.

Three Runaways Are Released

Three teen-agers who reside in Danora, Pa., taken into custody as runaways early yesterday morning by local police, have been released after Pennsylvania authorities and their parents were notified.

Officer Charles Snider arrested the trio at 4:45 a. m. yesterday on North Mechanic Street. Detective Donald Smith, who investigated, said the three came to Cumberland on a bus, and said they were here to be married. Smith said the trio had only $28 in their possession.

Cooking School 'Pupils' Receive Numerous Prizes

Switching to electricity in food preparation, the Times-News Cooking School became all-electrical for the first time yesterday at its opening session of a four-day program at the Strand Theatre.

Miss Geraldine Lien, assistant at last year's school, is conducting the current sessions, and has as her assistants Miss Doloris Smith and Miss Florence Gottshall. An attendance of approximately 1300 was registered for opening day.

Baskets of groceries were given to Mrs. Theodor Crabtree, 923 Silbert Place; Mrs. Albert Sowers, 721 Greene Street; Mrs. C. E. Dorsey, Central Avenue; Marie Haslacker, 15 South Lee Street; and Mrs. Robert Lowery, RD 1, Box case of 7 Up to Mrs. Brownlee 266; Mrs. Grace Porter, Ellerslie; Armstrong, McMullen Highway.

PPG Officials Greeted

Children's Theater Group To Stage Production Here

"Mr. Dooley Jr.," produced and directed by Grace Price of the Pittsburgh Children's Theater, will be presented next month at a number of school throughout Allegany County for the benefit of children of grades three to six.

Co-sponsoring the annual program, which has been presented each year for the past quarter-century, are the County PTA Council and the Board of Education.

Miss Margaret Doak, principal of Parkview School in LaVale, is council theater chairman. Working with her are Jane E. Botsford, Winifred Greene and Mildred E. Willison, supervisors of elementary education.

The schedule for the presentation of production is as follows:

Fort Hill High School, 9:30 a. m. and 1 p. m. p. m. October 17; Bruce High School, 9:30 a. m. October 18; Central Elementary School, Lonaconing, 1:15 p. m. October 18; Beall High School, 9:30 a. m. October 19, and Mt. Savage High School, 1 p. m. October 19.

A live dog and two children will play the starring roles in the production. Purpose of the presentation of such plays is to give grade school children experience in good children's theater.

The maintenance crew of the Cumberland Post Office has been busy for several days painting 11 mail boxes with the new colors, and will begin placing the receptacles in the downtown section today.

The top half of the mail boxes have been painted a brilliant red and the bottom half blue, with white lettering.

Officials said it will take some time to repaint all of the some 150 boxes used in the city, but that the work will be completed as soon as possible.

The shades of paint used, workers said, are as near those used in the American Flag as possible.

Officials pointed out the new colors will make it easier for motorists to locate and make use of boxes located on busy streets. The new colors will also appear on vehicles operated by the department.

Thomas F. Conlon, postmaster, said however that present trucks will not be repainted, since they are to be replaced in about four months. The new vehicles will be painted with the new color scheme.

The Citadel League has 42 members and is beginning its fall activities, Capt. Biggs said.

A service group of the Army, the Home League's program includes missionary projects, repair of garments and visits to the County Home and Infirmary.

Hurricane Ione Snubs Md., But Nobody Minds

Today To Be Fair And Cooler Here

[By The Associated Press] Marylanders relaxed yesterday after a night-long vigil awaiting the arrival of Ione, a capricious but potent hurricane.

It was mid-morning before Ione finally made up her mind and moved out to sea. An hour or so later, the Baltimore Weather Bureau said the movement had "removed all danger to the Maryland-Delaware area."

For hours, Ione had lingered off the Virginia coast, playing a lethal game of catch-me-if-you-can with residents of the Eastern Shore.

Marylanders on the Shore and in the area immediately west of the bay were ready, fortified by their experiences last month in hurricanes Connie and Diane.

Some residents of low-lying areas had even moved into school buildings, National Guard armories and other shelters against expected floods from high tides.

Utility company crews and police were alerted. Civil Defense personnel and the Red Cross prepared for disaster operations. The Second Army set up emergency communications networks and provided blankets and cots for use by refugees.

Military services moved planes and ships to safe anchorages out of the path of the storm. Householders took what precautions they could, or thought necessary.

If all the preparations were made useless by Ione's decision to give Maryland the cold shoulder, no one seemed to mind.

The Weather Bureau's explanation for Ione's change of mind: Strong "westerly winds aloft" blew the hurricane off its expected course.

The result: Maryland, and especially the Eastern Shore, got some heavy rain, some high tides, strong winds that never got to hurricane velocity. No major damage was reported.

The forecast for today: Fair, a little cooler in the west and central portions.

Jewish Group Election Set Tomorrow

A meeting of the Board of Governors of the Jewish Welfare Fund of Western Maryland will be held tomorrow at 8:15 p. m. in the B'er Chayim Temple vestry for the purpose of electing a president, vice president, a secretary and treasurers.

Other business will be discussed at the meeting. Recently eight new directors were named to replace those whose terms expire this year. They are Dr. A. C. Eskin, Arthur Friedland, Robert Goldfine, Yale Sander Lewine, Irwina Parisier, Max Spear, David Sigel and Leonard Schwab.

The board consists of the above directors as well as Morris Baron, Mrs. Robert Gerson, Adolph Hirsch, Robert Kaplan, George Ossip, Moe Sacks and Richard Schwab. The newly elected officers will serve for a term of two years.

A request was received from the United Jewish Appeal, the fund-raising agency, to advance funds prior to the new campaign locally, due to the urgent need for funds in the State of Israel.

As other localities throughout the land are rendering advance assistance, it was decided to forward a contribution from here to the New York headquarters.

Food Distribution Will Begin Today

Surplus foods will be distributed today from 9 a. m. to noon in the Cresaptown Fire Hall, according to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor.

In Cumberland, foods will be distributed Thursday and Friday, at the same hours, at the county's Franklin Street garage.

Ridgeley Legionnaires Plan To Attend District Meeting

Members of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, plan to join a caravan of cars which will transport Legionnaires to the sixth annual district meeting scheduled Sunday afternoon in Martinsburg.

Large Area Scorched By Brush Fire

Volunteers Aid In Fighting Blaze

Brisk wind coupled with the current dry weather were instrumental in the scorching of a large area of brush in the 700 block of Frederick Street yesterday afternoon and last night.

Firemen reported last night that the fire was brought under control and extinguished by 7:58 p. m.

Local firemen and volunteers from two district companies fought the blaze during the course of the afternoon.

No sooner would the firemen get the blaze under control than a new fire would spring up in a different section, apparently due to flying sparks.

At least six or seven acres of land were burned over during the afternoon and last night, according to firemen who fought the flames with water from the pumps, and also with rakes.

Yesterday morning East Side and Central firemen reported to the scene. Later in the day Central and East Side went back as the fire rekindled.

Also called into action were volunteer firemen from Bowman's Addition and Baltimore Pike. Cumberland Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker reported that a number of homes are located in the immediate area. East Side firemen were still out about 8 p. m. yesterday combatting the flames. At one time, Chief Parker added, there were two separate fires in the area covered by heavy brush.

Public Works Board Upholds WM Assessment

W. Va. Supreme Court Gets Appeals Briefs

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 20 (AP)—The Board of Public Works said today the evidence "fully supports" the assessed valuation of $11,250,000 it placed on West Virginia property of the Western Maryland Railway.

But, the board added, "even in the absence of such evidence, the assessment of the board must stand" because the railroad "completely failed" to prove a lower valuation.

The burden of proof in such a case rests with the company, the board said in its brief.

Oral and written arguments were presented to the State Supreme Court today on the board's appeal from a lower court ruling on the railroad's 1954 assessment for tax purposes.

Board Set Valuation

The board set $11,250,000 as the valuation of Western Maryland's Class III and IV property in this state. However, the railroad chose to fight the assessment and Judge Ernest A. See of Mineral County Circuit Court cut the valuation to $8,600,000. It was the third time the railroad had won an assessment reduction in a lower court.

In the current case, as in the previous ones, Western Maryland has attacked the method used by the board. First, the board ascertains an over-all system value for a railroad; then it allocates a portion of that as the West Virginia value.

A brief submitted by Western Maryland noted that in each of the two previous cases, the respective circuit courts held that the board's method "had the effect of improperly importing into the state a portion of the company's greater property values outside of the state."

The railroad said its West Virginia property is of "inferior character" compared with the rest of the three-state system and its operations in this state result in "heavy losses."

Miles In W. Va.

Therefore, its brief said, Western Maryland's property in this state should be assessed at a figure "certainly not higher" than the $8,600,000 fixed by Judge See.

The railroad said only 11 miles of its main line—part of a route from Connellsville, Pa., to Baltimore—lie in West Virginia. Another 225-mile route from Cumberland, Md., to Webster Springs was referred to as "the West Virginia branch."

The Board of Public Works asserted, however, that Western Maryland's annual report to the Interstate Commerce Commission designated the Cumberland-Webster Springs route as main line. Of the total mileage, 203 miles are in West Virginia.

An average of 26 per cent of the railroad's system operating revenue from 1949 to 1953 was derived from traffic originated in West Virginia, the board said.

It noted also that the railroad's own tax return to the state for 1954 listed a valuation of $10,797,875, or $452,143 below the figure later set by the board. The board told the Supreme Court:

"The company was successful in getting the lower court to reduce the assessment, not to the value of $10,797,875 given in its tax return to the board, but to $8,600,000—$2,197,875 less than the returned value."

"It is submitted that this fact alone clearly shows the error committed by the court below."

Scavengers Reported Busy At City Dump

Police have been asked to patrol the city dump in order to curb scavenging, a City Health Department spokesman reported yesterday.

The scavengers, he said, have been following garbage trucks to the dump, tearing apart the dumped garbage to find things they might salvage, and then setting fire to the remnants.

Since the garbage will burn and smolder for many hours, the attendant cannot safely operate the bulldozer, which is used to shove garbage over the bank.

He said the scavengers apparently collect metals, glass and other materials from the piles and then sell the articles.

City Police, he added, have been asked to keep a watch during the hours when garbage is being hauled to the city dump.

Fire Prevention Week Scheduled October 9-15

Programs Slated By Firemen

Member companies of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association are completing plans for participation in Fire Prevention Week, October 9-15.

Cromwell Zembower, LaVale, secretary-treasurer of the association, announced yesterday that during that week firemen will give talks and demonstrations at various meetings of service clubs throughout the area.

Organizations desiring to have similar talks and demonstrations at their meetings are asked to contact Zembower by telephoning PArkview 2-2317.

The purpose of Fire Prevention Week, Zembower added, is to bring before the public the need for curbing needless destruction caused annually by fires.

One of the highlights of the week's observance will be a fire prevention and safety rally at Memorial Park in Westernport on October 12 during the evening.

In charge of the program will be John J. Long, finance commissioner of Cumberland, who is also safety director at the Luke plant of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

The latest in fire fighting equipment and the most modern safety equipment will be shown at the Westernport meeting, in which a number of volunteer fire companies will take part.
